ENGLAND MAY RECALL MEXICAN RECOGNITION

Dispatches Received at Washington State That Great Britain's Formal Presentation of Papers to the Huerta Regime Recently Was Only Binding Until the Day of Election. She is Now Free to Consider New Policy.

Mexico City, Oct. 27.—There is no indication tonight as to what has been the result of the elections. The hope is held out that the "ayunamiento", a body resembling in some small degree a board of aldermen, will have prepared its report for the Federal district by the end of the week.

From the experience of the last Presidential election, when the means of communication was much better and the country was more nearly in a state of peace, it is regarded as too much to expect that the results throughout the country will be learned before the expiration of several weeks. At the headquarters of the Felix Diaz party no headway has been made to ascertain the strength of that party's vote. The Catholics have promised an early statement estimating the vote for Federico Gamboa in the Federal district.

Reluctance to go to the polls was general. Besides a lack of experience in such affairs, there was said to be generally felt a fear that some evil consequences would follow should the voter choose a losing candidate.

Less than 7 per cent of the registered voters cast a ballot at Ensenda de Todos Santos, Lower California. Of this a large part was composed of soldiers. The vote was practically unanimous for Huerta and Blanquet.

Voters Frightened Away.

San Luis Potosi, Mex., Oct. 27.—Posters announcing the candidacy of Huerta and Blanquet and calling upon the people to vote for "Men of steel" and to beware of being misled in these critical times, kept most of the voters away from the polls in yesterday's elections here.

Of the few votes Federica Gamboa, candidate of the Cathholic party, received the majority.

Posters also announced the birth of a new party, the "Anti-Interventionist". All other posters were prohibited under threats of arrest.

News fom the surrounding country indicated that a number of marauding parties has not diminished. Ranchers are flocking to the city in terror. The boldness of the rebels is increasing, apparently encouraged by the success at Torreon.

Huerta Leads at Vera Cruz.

Vera Cruz, Oct. 27.—Provisional President Victoriano Huerta obtained 1,500 of the 2,000 votes cast in Vera Cruz at yesterday's election, according to the official returns.

General Felix Diaz polled 300 votes and the remaining 200 were scattered among other candidates.

Piedras Negres for Huerta.

Eagle Pass, Texas, Oct. 27.—Official returns of the Mexican election in Piedras Negres showed Huerta polled 3,765 votes; Felix Diaz 122, and Ferdico Gamboa three.

Catholics Claim Victory.

Mexico City, Oct. 27.—Out of 978 polling places in the Federal district, the Catholic party leaders claim a majority in 920 for their candidates, Federico Gamboa and General Rascon. This claim, they say, is based on returns reported by the party watchers at the polls.

The returns from Celima, Guadalajara and various smaller towns also indicate Catholic majorities. Huerta and Blanquet received majorities in a number of places.

It is believed by many politicians that enough votes have been cast for the Huerta-Blanquet ticket to invalidate the election, in view of General Huerta's declaration that Congress may declare these votes illegal.

The Ayuntaminto has been called to meet November 2nd to pass upon the ballots for Senators and deputies.

Dispatches from England.

Washington, Oct. 27.—Reports from the British foreign office that Great Britain would do nothing in the Mexican situation now that the election had been held in the Southern republic without consultation with the United States aroused interest in official circles here today and added strength to the persistent intimations that the American government plans a note to the powers which may result in a concerted Mexican policy for the future.

Secretary Bryan when shown dispatches from London which asserted that Great Britain's recognition of Provisional President Huerta was given to extend only until the elections, stated that such had been the understanding here all the time. When asked if a note was in preparation which would open the way for negotiations with the foreign powers, he said, no intimations along this line could be given at this time.

Some officials said today that should the election for President be declared void and Huerta continues in power, Great Britain's recognition would necessarily continue to be binding. Others maintained, however, that the recognition extended by Great Britain was intended to hold only until the time of the election last Sunday, no matter what might be the result. On this basis, it was contended that Great Britain now was free to listen to any proposal that might be made by the United States for the formulation of a general Mexican policy.

Nothing Definite Known.

In the absence from Washington of President Wilson nothing definite could be learned about the plans of the government, but it was generally asserted that nothing would be done until there was official announcement from Mexico City on the outcome of Sunday's elections.

Secretary Bryan stated tonight that no such communication had been received. It was the general belief, however, in official circles that the Presidential election would be declared invalid and Huerta again chosen provisional President. Whatever happens, however, the United States is bound by its declaration not to recognize the government as it will be constituted. Secretary Bryan plans to consult with President Wilson on the subject as soon as the latter returns from Mobile. The President's speeches of the last few days with relation to a general Latin-American policy, gave rise to expectations of important developments before many days.

Most of the information to the department from Mexico during the day was routine. One dispatch, dated October 25th, stated that after three days' fighting in Monterey quiet had been restored and that the Federals at that time still held the city. No Americans or other foreigners had been reported killed or injured.

Reports from the embassy at Mexico City stated that no violence occurred during the election Sunday, and that the vote cast was light, due to general apathy.

Throw Out Huerta's Votes.

Mexico City, Oct. 27.—The Mexican minister of the interior, Manuel Garza Aldape, was asked today if the few votes cast in the Presidential election Sunday in Mexico City might be taken as an indication of how much voting had been done elsewhere in the republic and if, in view of the small number of votes cast, the election would be declared null by Congress.

The minister replied that the point which will decide the legality of the elections apart from the absence of fraud will not be whether a majority of the voters in each electoral district voted; it being immaterial for instance, if only ten thousand people in the capital cast their ballots.

"The essential thing," Senor Aldape explained, "is that the returns come in from a majority of the electoral districts and that the elections held there have been fair, even though only a small proportion of the voters may have availed themselves of the prilege of voting.

With regard to the vote for Provisional President Huerta and Minister of War Blanquet, he said:

"I have no news of any great number of votes having been cast for Huerta and Blanquet. Those which may have been cast for Huerta will be thrown out as illegal on the ground of unconstitutionality in accordance with the President's declaration."

Deny Carden's Statement.

London, Oct. 27.—"The British minister to Mexico did see some journalists, but in the course of the interview he made no reference of any sort or kind to the intentions or the policy of the United States in regard to Mexico."

The foregoing is an authorized statement today issued at the foreign office, where the officials have heard at length from the minister, Sir Lionel Carden upon the divergent reports relative to his recent interview.

Described as Farce.

London, Oct. 28.—Commenting on the result of the Mexican elections The Chronicle finds much resemblance between the present aspect of affairs in the United States and that which preceded the Cuban war.

The Daily News describes the election as a farce and says:

"Huerta's hope of embroiling the United States with the European powers is futile. There is a fair degree of ignorance and folly in European foreign offices, but they are not likely to quarrel with the United States for Huerta's 'beautiful eyes.' Time tells against Huerta, for the rebels are marching from victory to victory and after President Wilson's speech of yesterday no power can doubt that he is seeking neither conquest nor concession but only the good of Mexico itself."

The Daily Grapci soys:

"Gen. Huerta must be a shallow man if he thinks that the trick he played on the United States will modify the attitude of the Washington cabinet. All the dilemmas he may devise for the United States will not avail him."

Appealed for Help.

Mexico City, Oct. 27.—The French minister has appealed to the American charge Nelson O'Shaughnessy for aid for the French colony at Santa Ignacio, State of Sinaloa. The place is said to have been taken by rebels and

Josephus Daniels Speaks at Mobile

Mobile, Ala., Oct. 27.—Conceding the vast benefits that will accrue to commerce through the opening of the Panama Canal, Secretary Daniels told delegates to the Southern Commercial Congress tonight that the opening would not double the efficiency of the navy. He denied claims that the furthered mobility of the fleets would add so much to the sea power of the United States. He acknowledged, however, that such mobility would render the navy much more efficient.

"During the long campaign to induce the American people to pay the millions necessary to construct an isthmian canal," said the Secretary, "one of the strengest arguments for the large expenditure was that such a canal would double the efficiency of the navy. We were told also that it would make for efficiency in the army and make the United States the dictator of the Western Hemisphere and the mistress of the seas.

"Now that the canal is nearing completion and the day is near at hand when ships will sail from San Fran-

SEVENTH ANNUAL MEETING OPENS

MANY NOTABLE SPEAKERS

Wilson, Underwood, Daniels, Fletcher, Taylor, O'Neal and Numerous Other Men of Fame Deliver Addresses.

Mobile, Ala., Oct. 27.—A busy six hour stay of President Wilson in Mobile, speeches by Majority Leader Oscar Underwood, Secretary of the Navy Daniels and many others marked the opening of the seventh annual Southern Commercial Congress here today.

Delegates from all sections of the South heard President Wilson utter distinctive statement of a new angle of the policy of the United States oward Latin America, heard Mr. Underwood advocate upbuilding of American merchant marine as the best method of gaining commerce believed to be due the South because of the opening of the Panama canal and other speakers tell of the opportunity that awaits "Dixie" when the canal is opened to trade.

The programme early in the day, as far as it affected President Wilson was delayed and instead of the delegates hearing him speak twice as had been planned, he delivered only one address because of lack of time. The President let it be known that this administration would look to moral rather than material interests for pacifying our southern neighbors and this stirred the delegates to a line of thought unexpected.

As the late Senator Morgan, of Alabama, was one of the early advocates of a canal across the Isthmus, Governor Emmet O'Neal, of Alabama, took for the slogan of his address introducing President Wilson "Alabama did it."

Many Men of Fame.

Senator Duncan U. Fletcher, of Florida, in his annual address told of what the Congress had done in the past year and what was expected of it during the next. Among other speakers at the morning session was Congressman G. W. Taylor, of Alabama, who welcomed the delegates to Albama.

Immediately preceding Mr. Underwood at night was the address of Clarence Owsley, of Fort Worth, Texas, who recited the enormous loss to the Southern planter through waste in handling and marketing the cotton crop. He said this amount was about $5 a bale of an estimated total of $70,000,000 this season. Methods of eliminating this waste already advocated were reiterated by him with the statement that this elimination would work as great a good to the South as what was expected of the opening of the canal.

Mr. Underwood emphasized the point that without shipping controlled by the United States this country never could gain the increase in trade it expected from the opening of the canal. He pointed out that now about 10 per cent of the material imported and exported into and from the United States, was carried in American bottoms. In fostering American shipping lay the best chances of gaining through the opening of the canal, said Mr. Underwood.

One of the principal addresses of the night, but which was not delivered until late, was that of Secretary of the Navy Daniels, who spoke of "The Relation of Our Navy to the Panama Canal."

The afternoon session was taken up with five speeches on various subjects. Those who spoke were Emery R. Johnson, commissioner of Panama traffic and tolls; Lieut. Col. William L. Sibert, member of the Isthmian Canal Commission; A. H. Baldwin, chief of the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce; Harvie Jordan, president of the Southern Cotton Growers' Association, who spoke on "The Opportunity for Increasing and Maintaining the Demand for American Cotton," and P. P. Claxton, United States commissioner of education.

Features of the Congress tomorrow will be a memorial to the late Senator John T. Morgan, of Alabama, and the beginning of the convention of the women's auxiliary of the Congress.

Governor Felker Granted Request

Rochester, N. H., Oct. 27.—Governor Felker, after hearing both sides today granted the request of Harry K. Thaw for a further continuance in the extradition proceedings, setting November 4th as the final date on which his attorneys may file a supplementary brief bearing on the conspiracy indictment returned against their client by the New York county grand jury.

A continuance of two weeks had been requested. William Travers Jerome who opposed the delay, will be allowed two days to answer the new brief.

Probably 3,000 persons gathered at the city hall to see Thaw and many crowded into the room where the hearing was held. It was a Thaw crowd and when former Governor Stone, of Pennsylvania, who appeared for Thaw, declared that the sentiment of the people of New York and New Hampshire was that his client had been sufficiently punished, there was a demonstration of approval so noisy that the Governor ordered the

MRS. EATON AGAIN ON WITNESS STAND

SHOWED SIGNS OF FATIGUE

Most of Day Taken Up Telling of Former Letters Written Concerning Her Husband—Could Not Understand Gossip.

Plymouth, Mass., Oct. 27.—The cross examination of Mrs. Jennie May Eaton, who is on trial charged with poisoning her husband, Rear Admiral Eaton, was still uncompleted when court adjourned tonight. She had then been on the stand 12 hours, six hours under direct examination Saturday and six hours in the hands of District Attorney Barker today.

Her cross examination will be continued tomorrow and indications were that she would be a witness for at least another day, for at adjournment, the district attorney had not questioned her at all regarding he death of Admiral Eaton or incidents surrounding it.

The witness showed signs of fatigue. She answered questions readily, however. Much of the examination today had to be with numerous letters written by the defendant. Regarding one of these, written in 1909 the witness said:

"The Admiral's brain was full of drugs. He was almost childish at times and should have been operated upon. If he had been he would have been alive today."

Mrs. Eaton repeatedly contradicted testimony given by witnesses for the prosecution, included that of her daughter Dorothy, who had said that her mother gave the Admiral medicine in his tea and other beverages. Mrs. Eaton admitted that she had bought this medicine on two occasions. Once she said she told the Admiral about it, and gave it to him with his knowledge, but the other time she did not use it.

"I never could have deceived Admiral Eaton. So expert was he in medicines that he would have detected it immediately," she said.

Ate the Medicine.

Some of the medicine she got for the Admiral he liked so well that he "ate it like peppermint," she declared.

Explaining a phrase in one of her letters which referred to the "rottenness of the navy," Mrs. Eaton said she believed the Admiral's mental condition was due in a large measure to his life abroad while in the navy.

"I was very fond of the Admiral and pitied him deeply," she replied when asked regarding testimony that she had endeavored to have Eaton put away. She explained that she merely wanted to have him put in a sanatarium for three or six months as she believed it would cure him.

"Did you ever see the Admiral use drugs?"

"Yes. Dozens of times" was the reply. "He would eat drugs from the palm of his hand and almost immediately his eyes would set and become glassy and he would appear as though intoxicated."

Admiral Eaton was ashamed of his drug habit, the witness said, and often she had known him to sprinkle whiskey on his coat and even on his moustache in order to give the impression that liquor was responsible for his condition.

Going into details regarding neighborhood gossip about affairs of the Eaton family the witness said: "I came from an exclusive family and I cannot understand all this gossip. I sit and gasp at the dowdiness of New England women. Southern women would be clever enough to know which of two parties was short of brains."

Under the questioning of the prosecutor, Mrs. Eaton repeated her story of Saturday regarding her early life, and of her meeting with Admiral Eaton.

The Admiral was very intemperate, she said. "It was only when I saw that he was going to kill himself that I decided to marry him," she said.

"Then you married him to save his life?" asked Mr. Barker.

"Yes, I married him to save his life," replied Mrs. Eaton.

OUTLINES

Attorneys for Harry Thaw were given until November the 4th to prepare a brief to present to the Governor of New Hampshire.

Mrs. Eaton was again placed on the stand in her own defense yesterday. She denied the testimony of her youngest daughter and of several other witnesses.

The first day of executive consideration of the currency bill developed into a hearing behind closed doors. Prof. Jenks was the witness.

In a speech before the Southern Commercial Congress in session in Mobile, Ala., President Wilson clearly defined the policies of this country with the Republics of South America. He carefully avoided all mention of Mexico.

Dispatches from Mexico City state that voting was light at the Presidential election because of general apathy. England's recognition of the government in that country was binding only until the day of the election. She is now free to consider with the United States some definite Mexican policy.

New York markets: Flour firm. Wheat strong; No. 2 red 96 to 97 1-2. Corn strong, 79 3-4. Rosin steady. Turpentine steady. Money on call steady 2 7-8 to 4 per cent; ruling rate 3; closing 3 1-4 to 3 1-2. Spot cotton closed quiet; middling uplands 14.50; middling gulf 14.75; sales 1,300 bales.

Special Envoy to Mexico.

John Lind, the man who represents President Wilson in the Southern Republic, is right on his job. He has faithfully carried out the instructions of the President, and has done all in his power to restore peace in the disturbed nation.

SOUTHERN BEAUTY MARRIES

Miss Katherine Elkins, Daughter of Late Senator Stephen B. Elkins, Weds American Sweet Heart in Preference to Royalty.

Elkins, W. Va., Oct. 27.—Although intimate friends and the family had expected it for two years, the wedding of Katherine Elkins, daughter of the late United States Senator Stephen B. Elkins, to William F. R. Hitt, of Washington, this afternoon was a surprise throughout this section. Not even the mother of the bride was aware that preparations for the wedding had been made by the couple until several hours before it took place.

The ceremony was witnessed only by the immediate family, at Halleyhurst, the Elkins home here. Former Senator Davis Elkins was the attendant of the groom and Mrs. Blaine Elkins, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor. Rev. F. R. Barron, pastor of the Davis Memorial Presbyterian church here, was the clergyman.

The bride is also a granddaughter of former United States Senator Henry G. Davis, and while they married at 2 o'clock, so quietly had arrangements been made, that even he, too, was unaware of the event in prospect until noon.

William F. R. Hitt is a son of the former Congressman from Illinois, and for some years has made his home with his mother in Washington. During the past three or four years he has frequently been a guest of the Elkins family at Halleyhurst for weeks at a time and on several occasions accompanied Mrs. Stephen B. Elkins and the present Mrs. Hitt on trips abroad.

Owing to the suddenness of the whole affair no attention was paid to dress and the ceremony was most informal. It is said Mr. Hitt's mother residing in Washington, D. C., was apprised of the marriage by telegram this afternoon. The wedding found members of both families and friends unprepared as to gifts.

Mr. Hitt met Miss Elkins in Washington society about ten years ago.

Friends Are Surprised.

Washington, Oct. 27.—Diplomatic and society circles in Washington heard of the marriage of Miss Elkins to William F. R. Hitt with unusual interest. The news came as a complete surprise although it was known that the wealthy young Washingtonian had been an ardent admirer of Miss Elkins for many years.

A few years ago capital society was certain that Miss Elkins would wed the famous Duke De Abruzzi, member of the Italian royal family, naval officer and explorer. About the time the Duke came to America in command of the Italian fleet that participated in the international rendezvous at the Jamestown Exposition his attentions to the West Virginia heiress attracted attention.

Then for several years there were periodical semi-authentic announcements of an engagement. It was said that the Duke's family objected and that Miss Elkins had rejected the attention of her royal suitor.

Denials followed reports but all the time most people believed that in the end the wedding would take place. Finally the Queen Dowager of Italy was said to have interfered. At any rate, the Duke went on a two-year cruise and nothing more was heard about the romance.

Dawson, N. M., Oct. 27.—The total number of bodies recovered from Stag Canon Mine No 2, which was wrecked by an explosion last week, was increased tonight to 201. Normal conditions are being restored rapidly.

BILL AGAIN IN HEARING

First Day of Executive Consideration of Currency Bill by Committee Develops Into Hearing Behind Closed Doors.

Washington, Oct. 27.—The first day set for executive consideration of the administration currency bill by the Senate Banking Committee resolved itself into a hearing held behind closed doors. Prof. Jeremiah W. Jenks, of the University of the City of New York, was on the stand.

Prof. Jenks at the request of members of the committee, came to Washington to present a plan he had drawn for the establishment of a government controlled central bank to dominate the financial system.

Today he endorsed the central bank plan proposed last week by Frank A. Vanderlip, of New York, and declared that the Vanderlip plan in many of its details was more nearly an ideal currency scheme than his own proposal.

Prof. Jenks' plan contemplates the establishment of a central Federal bank under the control and management of government officials with branches established in various parts of the country. With this organization to take the place of the 12 regional reserve banks proposed in the administration bill the Jenks' plan follows closely the Owen-Glass measure in the working out of details.

The committee discussed with the witness a possible amendment which would maintain the regional reserve bank form proposed by the administration bill but which would eliminate the control of the regional institutions by the banks. Such a plan would insure government control of the entire system as contemplated in a central bank plan and would maintain the local character of the institutions. In this connection the committee discussed informally the opening of the stock of the regional banks to public subscription or providing for capitalization of the banks by the government, in order to obviate forcing the banks to subscribe.

Members of the committee said that the expected executive consideration of the bill would not be further delayed by hearing witnesses except as experts are called in to pass on proposed amendments.

VANDERLIP MAKES STATEMENT.

Regrets Glass Thinks He Used Red Herring.

New York, Oct. 27.—Frank A. Vanderlip, president of the National City Bank, issued a statement this afternoon in reply to one given out in Washington yesterday by Carter Glass, chairman of the House Banking and Currency Committee.

"I regret," says the stattment, "that the chairman of the House Committee on Banking and Currency feels that I have drawn a red herring across the path of currency legislation. If a plan for a government controlled central bank is a confusing factor in the political situation, the men who are responsible for it are members of the Senate Committee on Banking and Currency. I have been merely acting at their request to draft a polan which would embody principles which they firmly held.

"The principle of a government controlled bank giving to all borrowers the same rate originated with members of the Senatoe Committee, not with me. Nothing can be further from my purpose than to confuse the legislative situation. My whole aim is to be co-operative and to do what I can to help out a plan that will be both sound economically and meet every political tenet that the dominating party holds."

WILSON SPEAKS TO CONVENTION

Tells of Relations of This Country With Republics of South America.

NO REFERENCE TO MEXICO

"With Moderation and Without Indiscretion" President Outlines to Southern Commercial Congress Policies.

Mobile, Ala., Oct. 26.—While avoiding any mention specially of Mexico or any European influence connected with the Mexican situation, President Woodrow Wilson delivered a speech here today which appeared to be freighted with significance and which served to point with further directness the policy of the United States not only toward Mexico but toward all Central and South American republics.

Mr. Wilson spoke before the Southern Commercial Congress and the big audience which heard him constantly was swept with cheers and applause. The President smilingly took his hearers into his confidence when he explained he must speak "with moderation and without indiscretion."

A score of Latin-American diplomats sat just behind the President while he spoke and many of his remarks were addressed in conventional tones to them. There were those in the audience who thought the President might take advantage of the opportunity afforded by his speech here to say something regarding the Mexican crisis. Mr. Wilson, however, spoke only in general terms, but many of his sentences were pointed with a meaning so clear as to leave little doubt of their intent.

"Material interests"—a phrase much in use internationally of late in characterizing the attitude of foreign nations toward Mexico—frequently was employed by the President. He declared the American republics long had suffered from the hard bargains forced upon them by concessionairs seeking "material interests" in the countries affected. The President declared that through motives of "morality and not expediency" the United States desired to help the Latin-American republics to an emancipation from the subordination which has been inevitable to foreign enterprise."

Constitutional Liberty.

The President's speech was uttered with a confidence which bespoke the dominant part the United States expects to play in the future of the American republics; not through any idea of "material interests," he carefully explained, but through a love of the principle of constitutional liberty.

"The United States will never again seek to obtain one additional foot of territory by conquest," he declared amid applause.

Mr. Wilson spent six busy hours in Mobile. He arrived early in the morning and was taken jointly in hand by the members of the Southern Commercial Congress and citizens of the city. He was breakfasted, driven about the city in automobiles, was given a sightseeing expedition in the harbor and started back to Washington with cheers ringing about his special train. The President was in a tearing rush from the moment he reached the city until he left and if any dispatches of State reached him, they were deferred until he reached the seclusion of his train.

In his address Mr. Wilson spoke of his interest in all things Southern.

"But today I do not need to speak of the South," he added. "She has perhaps acquired the gift of speaking for herself. I come because I want to speak of our present and prospective relations with our neighbors to the South. I deemed it a public duty as well as a personal pleasure to be here to express for myself and for the government I represent, the welcome we all feel to those who represent the Latin-American States. The future is going to be very different for this hemisphere from the past.

"These States lying to the South of us, which have always been our neighbors, will now be drawn closer to us by innumerable ties, and, I hope, chief of all, by the tie of a common understanding of each other.

Ties of Commerce.

"Interest does not tie nations together. It sometimes separates them; but sympathy and understanding does unite them. And I believe that by the new route that is just about to be opened, while we physically cut two continents asunder, we spiritually unite them. This is a spiritual end which we seek. I wonder if you realize, I wonder if your imaginations have been filled with the significance of the ties of commerce.

"These great tides which have been running along parallels of latitude will now swing southward athwart parallels of latitude, and that opening gate at the Isthmus of Panama will open the world to a commerce that she has not known before—a commerce of intelligence, of thought and sympathy between North and South; and the Latin-American States, which, to their disadvantage, have been off the main lines will now be on the main lines. I feel that these gentlemen honoring us with their presence today will presently find that some part, at any rate, of the center of gravity of the world has shifted. Do you realize that New York, for example, will be nearer the western coast of South America than she is now to the eastern coast of South America?

"There is one peculiarity about the history of the Latin-American States, which I am sure they are keenly aware of. You hear of concessions to foreign capitalists in Latin-America. You do not hear of concessions to foreign capitalists in the United States.

They are not granted concessions. They are invited to make investments. The work is ours, though they are welcome to invest in it. We do not ask them to supply the capital and do the work. It is an invitation, not a privilege, and States that are obliged, because their territory does not lie within the main field of modern enterprise and action, to grant concessions, are in this condition: that foreign interests are apt to dominate their domestic affairs. A condition of affairs always dangerous and apt to become intolerable! What these States are going to see, therefore, is an emancipation from the subordination which has been inevitable to foreign enterprise and an assertion of the splendid character which, in spite of these difficulties, they have again and again been able to demonstrate. The dignity, the courage, the self-possession, the respect of the Latin-American States, their achievements in the face of all these adverse circumstances deserve nothing but the admiration and applause of the world.

Victims of Loan Sharks.

"They have had harder bargains driven with them in the matter of loans than any other people in the world. An admirable arrangement, for those who are forcing the terms! I rejoice in nothing so much as in the prospect that they will now be emancipated from these conditions, and we ought to be the first to take part in assisting in that emancipation. I think some of these gentlemen have already had occasion to bear witness that the Department of State in recent months has tried to serve them in that wise. In the future they will draw closer and closer to us because circumstances of which I wish to speak, with moderation and, I hope without indiscretion.

"We must prove ourselves their friends and champions, upon terms of equality and honor. You cannot be friends upon any other terms than upon the terms of honor, and we must show ourselves for friends by comprehending their interest, whether it squares with our interest or not. It is a very perilous thing to determine the foreign policy of a nation in the terms of material interest. It not only is unfair to those with whom you are dealing, but it is degrading on the part of your own actions. Comprehension must be the soil in which shall grow all the fruits of friendship; because there is a reason and a compulsion lying behind all this which is dearer than anything else to the thoughtful men of America. I mean the development of constitutional liberty in the world. Human rights, National integrity and opportunity as against material interests! That, ladies and gentlemen, is the issue which we now have to face."

No Territory by Conquest.

"I want to take this occasion to say that the United States will never again seek one additional foot of territory by conquest. She will devote herself to showing that she knows how to make honorable and fruitful use of the territory she has.

"And she must regard it as one of the duties of friendship to see that from no quarter are material interests made superior to human liberty and National opportunity. I say this, not with a single thought that any one will gainsay it, but merely to fix in our consciences what our real relationship with the rest of America is. It is the relationship of a family of mankind devoted to the development of true constitutional liberty. We know that that is the soil out of which the best enterprise springs. We know that this is a cause which we are making in common with them because we have had to make it for ourselves.

"Reference has been made here today to some of the National problems which confront us as a nation. What is the heart of all our National problems? It is that we have seen the hand of material interest sometimes about to close upon our dearest interests and possessions. We have seen material interests threaten constitutional freedom in America. Therefore, we will now know how to sympathize with those in America who have to contend with that, not only within their borders, but from outside their borders also. I know what the response of the thought and heart of America will be to a programme like that, because America was created to realize a programme like that. This is not America because it is rich. This is not America because it has set up for a great population great opportunities of material prosperity. America is a name which sounds in the ears of men everywhere as a synonym of individual opportunity, because it is a synonym of individual liberty. I would rather belong to a poor nation that was free than to a rich nation that had ceased to be in love with liberty. But we shall not be poor if we love liberty, because the nation that loves liberty truly sets every man free to do his best and be his best, and that means the release of all the splendid energies of a great people who think for themselves. A nation of employes cannot be free any more than a nation of employers can be.

United in Sympathy.

"So, in emphasizing the points which must unite us in sympathy and in spiritual interest with the Latin-American people, we are only emphasizing the points of our own life, and we should prove ourselves untrue to our own traditions if we proved ourselves untrue friends today. Do not think, therefore, gentlemen, that questions of the day are mere questions of policy, and diplomacy. They are shot through with the principles of life. We dare not turn from the principle that morality and not expediency is the thing that must guide us, and that we will never condone inequity because it is most convenient to do so. So it seems to me that this is a day of infinite hope, of confidence in a future greater than the past has been. For I am fain to believe that in spite of all the things that we wish to correct, the 19th century has brought us a long stage toward the time when, slowly ascending the tedious climb that leads to the final uplands, we shall get the ultimate view of the beauties of mankind, and presently, it may be in a generation or two, come out upon those great heights where there shines, unobstructed the light of the justice of God."

On Board President Wilson's Special Train, Atlanta, October 26.—Thousands of Southern folks in great, cheering throngs welcomed President Wilson to Dixieland today as he sped through Virginia, North and South Carolina and Georgia, en route to the Southern Commercial Congress at Mobile, Ala., where he will deliver an address tomorrow.

The shrill notes of the "rebel" yell at Salisbury, N. C., awakened the President earlier than he had intended to rise, and as the Autumn sunlight streaked over the Blue Ridge a pilgrimage of admiring hosts began.

At villages and hamlets, where the President's train ran slowly, and at cities where stops were made there were huge crowds, enthusiastic and happy at their first glimpse of Woodrow Wilson, the first native of the South elevated to the Presidency since the Civil War.

"We walked 15 miles to see you," said a group of North Carolinians, as the President appeared on the car platform at Charlotte. They told Mr. Wilson they were from Davidson College, where he had prepared for Princeton. The President greeted them warmly.

Passes Familiar Scenes.

"It's like coming home again," he said, and amid cheers hundreds of hands were stretched toward him. Mr. Wilson shook hands with many, but refrained from making any speeches.

"Speech! Speech!" cried the crowd at Spartanburg, S. C.

"It's Sunday," smiled the President.

"Well, we've just come from church," some one insisted. "You could preach, you know."

"I can't preach," replied the President, modestly.

"A political sermon," suggested a voice, and the President joined in the laugh that followed.

Flowers Pressed on Him.

Big boxes of flowers were presented to the President over the rail of the observation car at many points en route. The greatest demonstration occurred at Salisbury and Charlotte, N. C.; Spartanburg and Greenville, S. C., and Gainesville and Atlanta, Ga.

Many of the cities brought familiar memories to mind, for Mr. Wilson spent his early life in this region. He practiced law in Atlanta. Misses Margaret and Jessie Wilson were born at Gainesville and the President pointed out the house to Dr. Grayson, his aide, as the train rolled by.

Secretary Daniels, who is also to speak at Mobile, got a warm welcome en route, particularly in his home State—North Carolina.

Cheered at Montgomery.

Montgomery, Ala., Oct. 27.—President Wilson arrived in Montgomery at 6 o'clock tonight. His train stopped only ten minutes, but the President because of hoarseness did not attempt to make an address. Several thousand people were at the station and cheered him as he appeared on the platform of his car.

Rousing Reception.

On Board President Wilson's Special Train, Opelika, Ala., Oct. 27.—Seldom has Woodrow Wilson been given the demonstration of enthusiasm with which Alabama today welcomed him, not only at Mobile, where seemingly the city's entire population turned out, but at all points en route. As his train traveled northward toward Washington tonight the reception was one of continuous cheering. It was like a huge frolic to the people of Alabama. They came flocking to the stations in happy throngs, eager to hear the President make a speech but he refrained, preferring to reach over the rail of his car and shake hands with men, women and children everywhere.

The President enjoyed it immensely, particularly the good-natured banter with the crowd.

"Please make a speech," implored some one in the great crowd at Montgomery. "I'm not much of a hand at speeches from the train," laughed the President, and then added: "I'll admit I'm not much to look at either."

"But you look good to us," chorused the crowd.

"We wish Mrs. Wilson could have come along," came from a feminine contingent.

"I wish she could too," replied the President. "She's much better looking."

The people jammed the station yards at Montgomery and gave the President a rousing cheer as his train pulled out at Opelika and other stations along the way. The crowds waited until long into the night for the President's train.

Though in receipt of messages on the Mexican situation, the President made no announcements nor had he anything to add tonight with reference to his speech at Mobile earlier in the day.

"UP TO THE CHURCH."

Congregationalists Must Put Albania on Her Feet.

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 27.—"It is up to the Church—especially the Congregational Church in America—to put Albania, a decadent nation, on its feet and lead it from its turbulent past into a peaceful future," declared Rev. Charles T. Erickson, a missionary from Albania, in an address tonight in connection with the National Council of Congregational churches.

Miss Ellen M. Stone, of Boston, who attained international prominence two years ago when she was captured by Bulgarian bandits and held for $65,000 ransom also described conditions in the Balkans.

"The Albanians themselves," said Dr. Erickson, "have made a start to shake off the shackles that have bound them to a direful past—a past of war and pestilence—by asking Catholic and Orthodox Europe for a protestant prince. The Albanians are quitting the Greek schools which hold out to them nothing new and are coming to our American missions. They look to American missionaries as the saviors of their nation and their people."

Most of the day's sessions were given over to the missionaries of the church, who told of conditions in their districts abroad.

A plea against the independence of the Philippine Islands was made by Dr. Charles T. Sibley, a missionary from Davao.

"The Filipinos," said Dr. Sibley, "still need the American flag because they are a divided people, without a common tongue, without a National tie. They have no navy and no funds with which to secure one. A large percentage of the population is sick and underfed not because the islands cannot produce sufficient food but because people do not know how to cultivate it efficiently."

The National Council today appealed to President Wilson to use his influence to prevent separation of negro white clerks in government offices throughout the country when it adopted unanimously a resolution proposed jointly by A. C. Griner, of Washington, and H. H. Proctor, of Augusta, negroes.

It was reported that a placer gold strike has recently been made in Northern British Columbia, south of the line of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway. It is situated on Sibola creek, a tributary of Tahtsa river, which empties into Ootsa lake, about 110 miles in a southwesterly direction from Telkwa.

THE FATNESS OF HEALTH.

Samose Fills Out the Curves and Makes Thin People Fat.

If you are thin, your health is not what it should be. If you are losing weight steadily, there is something wrong that should be attended to at once. You cannot be healthy and strong if you are thin.

Perfect health and good, solid beautiful flesh can only come through the use of Samose, the remarkable flesh-forming food.

Samose is not a drug or a stimulant; it is a scientific flesh forming food that restores thin people to a normal condition of good healthy flesh.

These statements are confirmed by the J. Hicks Bunting Drug Co., offer to refund the money to any one buying and using Samose who does not gain in weight as promised. The risk is all theirs. The thin and scrawny can buy Samose at Druggist J. Hicks Bunting's store, with the knowledge that if it is not successful it will cost absolutely nohting.

..Theatrical..

With Kleine and Yoste, whose act consists of songs with piano accompaniment, as top-liners, the Academy of Music yesterday began its second week of daily vaudeville. These boys pheum Circuit, and they will be here phian Circuit, and they will be here all week, so that everyone will have the chance to see them. They are far above the average vaudeville performers and make a hit at every performance.

There are a great many other good acts, however. The Les Danovas open the bill with "The Frog and the Candy Kid." This act has special scenery and the team won much applause for their clever comedy. Belle Travers is second and is a very delightful singer and comedian. The third is Harris and Hillard. This team present an act which is rife with refined comedy and singing. Melville and Montrose close the bill with "Fun at a Circus." This is a particularly good acrobatic act which will please everyone.

The concert by the Singing Class of the Orphan Asylum which was to have been at the Academy, will be given at the Masonic Temple on Tuesday night. And except for Thursday, theatregoers will be able to see this show any day for 10 or 15 cents.

The theatre-going public of Wilmington is taking big interest in the presentation in Wilmington Thursday of this week of "Little Women" which had such wonderful triumph in New York City last season and which has been proclaimed one of the cleanest and best of all plays.

It will be a genuine New York production that will be at the Academy Thursday and Wilmington is doubly fortunate in being able to see two performances of the celebrated play, because a special matinee has been arranged for Thursday. The company and production are the original ones, under the management of William A. Brady, one of New York's biggest producing managers. Seats for both performances will go on sale at J. Hicks Bunting's drug store tomorrow morning at 8:30 o'clock.

The Norfolk Virginian-Pilot has just paid the attraction this high tribute:

"Just as lovable and appealing is 'Little Women' the play, as was the story when Louisa M. Alcott wrote it more than 40 years ago. Three generations have laughed and cried with the characters of the book, and to see them in real life was the privilege of delighted audiences at the Wells theatre Thursday afternoon and last evening.

"While there were doubtless many in the audiences who had not read the book, and the writer was one of these—many permats, who had never even read a synopsis of the story—yet, judging from the laughter and applause that cropped out a frequent intervals during the unraveling it just as much as those who made the acquaintance of the characters shortly after their creation by Miss Alcott.

"The story is so generally known that a review of it here would be unnecessary, but the manner of its presentation is worthy of well merited commendation. In the first place, it is seldom that one sees a play dealing with years gone by in which the local 'atmosphere' has been so satisfactorily and intimately preserved. While the locals of the first three acts is identical, the charm and beauty of the old-fashioned sitting room of the March home did not pall, and the exhilirating freshness of the old apple orchard in the concluding act was delightful.

"As to the presenting company, it would be difficult for even so resourceful and able a judge of plays and players as William A. Brady, under whose auspices the play is presented, to have chosen a more well balanced and individually capable a cast. There is not a weak spot in the entire personnel, consequently a really finished performance is given. Perhaps the most 'popular' character among the little women involved in the story and play is that of Josephine and its portrayal by Margery Taylor is splendid. It is a part that can be easily spoiled by exaggeration, but at no time does Miss Taylor yield to the temptation offered. Lucy Cotton, as Meg, is dainty, and charming, and Elaine Benton, as Amy, and Henrietta McDaniel as Beth, are equally satisfactory in their respective roles. Some exceptionally good character work is done by Eleanor, Carey as Aunt March, and Robert Fischer as Prof. Baher."

Four Pictures at Grand.

Four films at the cozy, handsome Grand today. Yes, four of those big ones for which the Grand is noted and which provide the people of Wilmington with immense delight. The quartette will be headed by Lubin's greatest rib-tickler, "This Isn't John" and it will cause chuckles to issue from the hearts and throats of the folks from start to finish. A distinguished cast will be seen, too, including Mr. Ronert Burns, who will play the hen pecked husband, Mr. Raymond McKee and Misses Julia Calhoun, Frances McMoyer and Marguerite Ne Moyer.

There is another big laugh producer on today in "Poker Paid", which is Selig's best, and then one of those gripping, thrilling dramatics, "The Toils of Deception," which is something that is away out of the ordinary. In deals with a man who gambles in stocks and his vain, pretty wife, and the evil consequences.

There is also a big Pathe Weekly on today, showing latest current events, President Wilson at the Summer capital, at Cornish; Roosevelt in New York, etc. There is also a fine editorial feature to this film.

Another Big Week at Bijou.

The popular Bijou is off on another big week, which will add laurels to its crown, and which will thereby add to the pleasure of hundreds of people in Wilmington. A big opening of the new week was made yesterday and will be followed today by another great show, and the bill today will be headed by a special two-reel release, the Vitagraph's "Under the Daisies", in which two favorite Thespians, Miss Norma Talmadge and Mr. Harry Northrop will star. It is a story of a great dramatic intensity, in which a young newspaper critic wrongs a country girl and is brought to retribution by a dramatist, whose play he has criticised, though the dramatic is unawares of the good he is doing. The story is fraught with heart interest and is a stirrer, being told in two big reels.

Another strong film today is the Biograph's "An Unjust Suspicion," which is one of the best of all dramatics. It is something new as well as novel. But not only does the Bijou appeal by reason of thoroughly comfortable nature this character of weather especially. It is always as warm as toast at the Bijou.

West Point, N. Y., Oct. 27.—Lieut. Philip A. Mathews, treasurer of the Army Athletic Council, who has charge of the distribution of tickets for the Army-Navy football game among subscribers in the Army Athletic Council today announced that all applications for tickets must be in the hands of the athletic committee before November 1st.

DEATH OF MRS. WILLIAMS.

Passed Away at Harper's Sanitarium Sunday—Funeral Yesterday.

Many friends were grieved Sunday when they learned of the death of Mrs. Edith Augusta Williams, wife of Chief of Police N. J. Williams, which occurred at Harper's Sanitarium Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. She had been seriously ill for several days, and had to undergo an operation. She appeared to rally, and her loved ones hoped for her recovery. However, she became worse Saturday and steadily declined in strength until the end came.

Surviving her besides her husband are two children, her mother, Mrs. Emma Baskin, of this city, one sister, Mrs. E. A. Speight, of Charleston, S. C. They have the sympathy of a host of friends in their sad bereavement.

She was a native of Wilmington, and was 35 years of age. She was married 18 years ago, and spent her entire life here. She was a member of the Baptist church. She was devoted to her family affairs and lived a life of exemplary usefulness. She was in its truest sense a devoted helpmeet to her husband, and found her highest joy in serving those whom she loved.

The funeral was held yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock from the residence, No. 405 Campbell street, conducted by Rev. J. A. Sullivan, pastor of the Brooklyn Baptist church, assisted by Rev. Dr. A. D. McClure, pastor of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church. The services were attended by many friends. The entire police force attended the exercises and escorted the remains to the grave. The interment was in Oakdale cemetery.

The pallbearers were: Honorary, Dr. John T. Schonwald, Dr. Chas. P. Bolles, Cuncilman T. W. Wood and James Howard; active, Councilman W. F. Jones and Messrs. E. P. Schulken, C. W. Woolard, John W. Blomme, F. J. Dempsey and E. B. Knight.

FUNERAL OF MR. COX.

Services from Bladen Street Methodist Church Sunday Morning.

The funeral of Mr. W. Harvey Cox, who met a tragic death Friday afternoon at Bolton when a freight train was derailed, was held Sunday morning from Bladen Street Methodist church, conducted by the pastor, Rev. W. L. Rexford, assisted by Rev. Dr. A. D. McClure, pastor of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, and Rev. G. B. Webster, of Winter Park.

The church was filled with hundreds of friends who came to pay their last tribute of respect to a man who was ever faithful in the discharge of public duty, and who died at the post of duty. There were many beautiful floral designs. The Junior Order of United American Mechanics, of which the deceased was a member, attended the services in a body. Following the services at the church the remains were taken to Prospect church at Middle Sound, for interment.

The Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, of which the deceased was an honored member, also attended the funeral in a body, and the exercises at the grave were conducted by them. Mr. J. F. Howe, president of the order, and Mr. Leon, Jr., chaplain, had charge of the services.

The pallbearers were: Honorary, Messrs. B. C. Moore and S. P. Cowan; active, Messrs. J. B. Taylor, C. W. Clark, J. J. Furlong, J. H. Taylor and W. B. Savage.

PARK COMMISSION MEETS.

Will Submit Plans for Improving Postoffice Park to City Council.

A meeting of the Tree and Park Commission was held yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock in the office of the city engineer at the City Hall, all of the members being present. They are Messrs. John J. Blair, chairman; Adam Empie and H. deW. Rapalje and Misses Julia Parsley and Katie Grainger. The principal matter discussed was the proposed improvement of the postoffice plot in order to make it a city park. Several plans were submitted, some of these being from landscape gardeners in other cities, but it was finally decided to recommend to Council the adoption of the plans made by City Engineer F. F. Pillet. This plan will be submitted to Council at its meeting tomorrow morning.

The establishment of a city park in the southern part of the city was also discussed, and it was decided to ask the Council to take some action toward improving the property deeded to the city by Mr. M. S. Willard.

FINISH STANDARDIZATION TRIAL

Battleship Texas Makes Good in Its Tests and is Now Ready.

Rockland, Me., Oct. 27.—The official standardization trials of the superdreadnought Texas, interrupted on Thursday by an accident to the port engine, was completed today with results entirely satisfactory to the builders and the government officials. The fastest run over the mile course was made at the rate of 22.28 knots, exceeding by more than 1 1-4 knots the speed required by the contract. The average of the five fastest runs upon which the standardization data is based was 21.128, and the propeller revolutions averaged 125.48 a minute. The trials indicated that the contract speed of 21 knots can be obtained by and average of 123 propeller revolutions per minute.

CASE NON-SUITED.

Action Against the Tidewater Power Co., Did Not Go to Jury.

Upon the completion of the evidence in the case and upon motion of counsel for the defendant company, Judge Rountree in Superior Court yesterday afternoon ordered a judgment of non-suit in the case of Mrs. Martha J. Register, administratrix, against the Tidewater Power Company. The plaintiff gave notice of appeal to Supreme Court. Mrs. Register was suing for $25,000 damages for the death of her son, Mr. James C. Register, who was electrocuted while working as lineman for the Tidewater Power Company about 15 months ago.

The case of Ida Campbell, colored, administratrix, against the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad Company, was taken up in the afternoon. It is an action for $15,000 damages for the death of the plaintiff's intestate, who lost his life under a box car on the dummy line some months ago. The jury was selected before court adjourned for the day yesterday afternoon. B. G. Empie and Louis J. Poisson, Esq., represent the plaintiff, while Davis & Davis appear for the defendant.

The Recorder's Court.

The only cases tried by the Recorder yesterday were for disorderly conduct, all of these being colored. The case against Lowenna Nixon was adjudged frivolous and malicious and the prosecutrix, Mary Steljes, colored, was taxed with the costs. Dave Smith had to pay the costs. Annie Holmes and Minerva Maybank were each fined $10 and the costs, and went to the county farm for 30 days in default. Mary Pope had to pay $5 and costs.

AFFAIRS AT STATE CAPITAL

Activities as to Freight Rates—Two Charters Issued—Other News, General and Otherwise at Raleigh.

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 27.—The railroad companies doing inter-State freight business in North Carolina have filed notice with the Corporation Commission that they are preparing as rapidly as possible the data for the new freight schedules under the terms of the proposal that was accepted by the recent Legislature for the settlement of differences.

This data is to be marshaled and submitted as the new schedule with the inter-State Commerce Commission for its formal approval and thereafter there will be the actual putting into effect of the new rates.

The members of the Corporation Commission, Chairman Travis, and Commissioners Lee and Pell and Clerk Maxwell, left today for Washington, D. C. They go to attend the annual meeting of the National Association of Railroad Commissioners, but will give special attention to the matter of the impending new reduced inter-State freight rates for North Carolina under the terms of the proposal. They will have a conference with the members of the Inter-State Commerce Commission and do whatever they can through conferences with the railroad officials as well to hasten the actual operation of the new rates.

Nothing has been heard from the railroad companies as yet as to the intra-State rates and whether or not the railroad companies will petition the Governor to suspend the operation of the new rates fixed by the Legislature. It is understood that the railroad companies are preparing data on which to base their call on the Governor to interfere with the appointment of the special commission provided for in such cases to pass on the rates and adjust them. There seems to be no doubt that this course will be taken. This must be done within 60 days after the act was passed. The railroad companies are understood to be preparing their case to be submitted in such way as to set out the most complete case in their interest possible.

H. M. London, of Pittsboro, just appointed by Internal Revenue Collector J. W. Bailey as chief deputy for the Eastern district of North Carolina, is to move his family here in time to take up his official duties November 15th. He has served as a member of the Legislature and is a prominent attorney, son of Major H. A. London. He was presidential elector for the last campaign, doing especially effective work in the interest of the Wilson campaign.

Adjutant General Young, of the North Carolina National Guard, has issued a commission to Oscar R. Mills as first lieutenant of Company E, Third North Carolina regiment, at Statesville. Gen. Young has received the resignation of R. J. Jones as captain of Company C, Third regiment, Henderson, and has ordered an election for the selection of his successor.

Charters were issued for two new corporations today. The Chadbourn Hardware Co., of Chadbourn, capital $10,000 authorized and $3,000 subscribed by E. H. Miller and others. And the Leonard Cafe, Lexington, capital $5,000 authorized and $1,050 subscribed by G. F. Hawkins for cafe and hotel business.

State Insurance Commissioner Jas. R. Young is investigating charges of conduct that would justify the department in removal from office made against a prominent North Carolina fire insurance man who is maintaining an agecy for quite a number of fire insurance companies and it is understood that a number of other agents are to be investigated. The charges made allege irregularities in issuing insurance policies through giving rebates to insurers. Such offenses constitute grounds for cancellation of licenses and conviction as to one company agency operates to cancel licenses to serve all other companies represented.

Commissioner Young has begun investigation into charges made against a number of life insurance agents and medical examiners in a number of eastern Carolina towns, including Kinston, that they have been issuing policies to insurers under fraudulent conditions, including the insuring of aged people as of insurable age.

HUNTING AROUND KINSTON.

Promises to be Good This Winter. Birds Plentiful.

Kinston, N. C., Oct. 27.—The territory comprising ten counties directly north, east and south of here promises to be a veritable elysium for hunters during the coming Winter. Game with fur and feathers is known to abound more plentifully now than before in many years, and sportsmen are preparing for a season certain to afford profit and pleasure. Down the lower Neuse and Pamlico valleys the swamps and pocosins are teeming with the larger varieties of game animals, including bear and deer, and on the higher ground squirrels, 'possum, raccoons and wild turkeys have been frequently reported in unprecedented profusion. In Wayne, Greene and Lenoir counties bags of 15 or 20 'possums in a single night even this early in the season are making the hunting of them lucrative to the rural negroes and pleasurable to others who love the sport. The Kinston Fox Hunt Club, a sportsmen's organization of other days, has been revived, and chases of the gray reynard are had almost every morning in the vicinity of Falling Creek, where the largest and best trained pack of hounds in the East is owned by neighborhood planters. Not a single unsuccessful quest has been noted. On the northern edge of Duplin and Jones counties, where some years ago a pack of red foxes imported from the North was liberated by a local enthusiast, the species has thrived and are said to be found frequently, although the locality is not easily accessible to hunters. When less than a month from now the quail season opens the game wardens will become more than ordinarily alert to prevent a wholesale slaughter of the birds which is anticipated from their numerousness. On the banks along the coast the hunters of geese, brandt, swan and the several varieties of duck which are found there in the Winter, may be disappointed, from the present prospect. For the feathery immigrants have so far come in numbers so small that the people along the coast are congratulating themselves, from this unfailing sign, that they are facing a mild Winter. In the past two years, with hard Winters, the low grounds were seldom invaded in search of the fur bearers, and all the species are said to have multiplied to a numerosity far surpassing the normal. This has led trappers from as far distant points as Alabama to locate in east Carolina for the Winter. The animals with more valuable hides are said to have nothing on the bear, deer and wild cat in the matter of increase.

P. E. GENERAL CONVENTION

(Special Star Correspondence.)

New York, Oct. 25.—Since my last letter to you we have had a busy week of progressive work. The convention has shown itself to be thoroughly alive to all the movements for progressive religious activity, and at the same time it maintains that conservatism which preserves a reasonable and rational balance between all extremes.

It is on the alert to strengthen its work here in the home land; it is enthusiastic in the purpose to push forward its mission work throughout the world; it is ready and has declared itself as desiring to join heart and hand with other religious bodies, in their boards of missions and in the federation of churches for the advancement of the common cause; and at the same time it stands to a man on the firm foundation of "the faith once delivered to the saints." It is conservative in all matters pertaining to the faith and the fundamental principles of this church; it is progressive in all matters of administrative and missionary work.

One of the most interesting and inspiring features of the convention is the joint sessions of the House of Bishops and the House of Deputies held in the Cathedral of St. John, the Divine. These joint sessions have been for the purpose of hearing reports from the bishops and missionaries returned from the mission field. In the form of illuminating and inspiring addresses we have had reports from China and Japan, from Africa, from the Islands of the Sea, from Central and South America, from Alaska and from our domestic mission fields. These reports showed that our bishops and missionaries have gone about their work especially in foreign fields in a large and statesman-like way, and not at all in any mere sectarian spirit.

A striking illustration of this was the report of Dr. Teusler, a missionary surgeon in St. Luke's Hospital, Tokio. He stated that the high officials of the Japanese government had offered to give $100,000 or more to St. Luke's Hospital if we would make it an international hospital, it being understood that the hospital was to continue to be a Christian hospital, and Dr. Teusler asked that we give another $100,000 to insure that great international institution. Immediately following Dr. Teusler's address, Bishop Brent stepped to the platform and declared in most impressive words that we were facing an opportunity and the church might well covet the opportunity to have one of our hospitals made a great international hospital at Tokio, with the approval and hearty co-operation of Japanese officials and he appealed to this church to give $100,000 asked of us for that purpose.

Many matters of vital importance have been before the convention, such as the report of the commission on World Faith and Order, the revision of the Hymnal, the establishment of a court of final appeal, and other matters of importance but they have been fairly well reported in your columns. I mention here only a few points of more than ordinary interest.

I mention first the provision of this convention for the pensioning of aged and infirm clergy. We have had for years some sort of pension system but it has been fragmentary and inadequate. The present plan is to coordaine all these agencies so as to have an adequate pension system.

In the matter of having provinces and provincial synods: The proposed provinces are nothing more nor less than our present missionary departments with enlarged administrative powers. The missionary departments with their departmental meetings, such as we had last year in Charlotte, have proven of great value and what has been referred to as the Provincial System in the church is simply the development of these missionary departments for larger usefulness.

Lastly, a word about the "change of name." It has had no serious place in this convention, and is apparently a past issue, at least for a number of years. It has been discussed in a general way, but indirectly and not as a specific issue before this convention. If any of our people have felt any anxiety about this matter, I think there is now no reason for such anxiety.

By the time this letter reaches you this convention will be a thing of the past. By resolutions adopted by both houses it will adjourn today to meet in St. Louis in October, 1916.

I am happy to say that Bishop Strange is reported as steadily improving, and is expected to be able to return home in the near future.

PARTY AT MIDDLE SOUND.

Children Preparing Delightful Affair on Friday Night.

Middle Sound, N. C., Oct. 27.—The children of Middle Sound are going to have a round table and box party at their school house Friday night of this week. The exercises will begin at 8 o'clock. Much enthusiasm will be shown in the round table and subjects of vital interest will be discussed regarding educational matters. All who are interested in the progress and advancement of education are cordially invited. Aside from the round table and box party there will be a lively contest in the phonic class for reading and the sounds of letters, emphasis being placed on phonics as well as the information one can get from books depends upon "how to read." During the evening the center of attraction will be the giving away of a gold bracelet to the prettiest girl in the audience. Ladies are asked to please bring baskets, filled with all the good things that might tempt the appetite of man. Then baskets will be sold to the highest bidder. The programme is as follows:

"How the Committee Can Help the Teacher," Mr. George Shepard.

"How to Ruin a School," Miss Floy Quinn, leader.

"How the Pupils Can Help the Teacher," Miss Bessie Canady, leader.

"What the Neighborhood Can Do in Way of Improvement of School Grounds," Mr. Joe Bell, leader.

"The Influence of School Life on the Young," Rev. Geo. Shepard.

"The Three Bears."—Dramatization.

Reading Contest, first and second reader. Prize.

Old fashioned spelling bee. Prize, Dictionary.

Pretty Girl Contest, prize, bracelet.

The proceeds of the evening go for the improvement of the school grounds.

EASTERN CAROLINA FAIR.

Great Meet This Week in City of Elms.—The Attractions.

Newbern, N. C., Oct. 27.—It is not necessary for the citizens of Eastern North Carolina to journey for six or seven miles to see a fair. The Eastern Carolina Fair at Newbern is not a local fair by any means. It is not a county fair, but is a fair organized for the purpose for which its name applies, that is, to serve all Eastern North Carolina.

Tuesday, October 28th, the fair will be opened by a large parade downtown.

Wednesday, October 29th, will be "Educational Day". A free ticket has been distributed to every school child in ten counties. Dr. J. Y. Joyner will deliver an educational address in front of the grandstand.

Thursday, October 30th, will be the "Big Day"

Friday, October 31st, will be "Firemen's Day". There has been arranged an exceptionally fine programme of racing and free attractions for this day. There will be no horse racing on Friday, but there will be hose wagon races by about ten companies from various sections of eastern North Carolina.

On Wednesday and Thursday nights besides the free attractions there will be a gigantic fireworks display. This is the same fireworks display that took place at Greensboro this year at the Greensboro fair and the Greensboro Record has the following to say: "The display of fireworks shown at the fair grounds last night under the direction of Mr. Joe Anzalone of New York, was an exhibition surpassing in brilliance anything ever presented in this city. The representation of the battle of Tripoli showing with wonderful scenic grandeur the bombardment of the fort, the bursting of bomb shells and firing of rockets far into the air, presented a thrilling spectacle; and a pyrotechnic display which was indeed marvelous. Mr. Anzalone's exhibition surpasses anything of its kind ever presented here, and it is said to be even better that that of Payne, who is recognized as an expert in this line. Tonight the fireworks will be displayed at the grounds for the last time during the fair, and hundreds of people will attend merely for the purpose of witnessing this feature."

All railroads are offering special rates. Excursion trains will be run on Wednesday and Thursday from Beaufort, Oriental, Goldsboro and Washington and returning. Special trains will leave Wednesday and Thursday nights at 10:30 o'clock for Beaufort, Oriental, Goldsboro and Washington so that all visitors may have the opportunity of witnessing the great fireworks display

AT THE PIE COUNTER.

News and Views of the Office-seekers at Washington.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Washington, D. C., Oct. 27.—Senator Simmons, accompanied by Mrs. Simmons, returned to Washington today from a two weeks' vacation at the Senator's Jones county farm. Mr. Simmons looked the picture of health and said he never felt better in his life. The senior Senator said he had not reached a decision in the Reidsville, Laurinburg and Marshall postoffice controversies. He said that he had intended settling the Reidsville case but when he reached his farm he failed to find copies of the Reidsville Review which contains certain articles objectionable to Senator Simmons.

The most interesting patronage fight here now is the Monroe postmastership. Geo. Beasley, brother of R. F. Beasley, one of the proprietors of the State Journal and the Carolina Democrat, is a candidate for the job. E. C. Winchester and Jim McNeeley have been bitten by the same bug and have coralled a cart load of letters of endorsements which are now on file in Representative Page's office. The chances seem to favor Winchester, though the Representative has not intimated whom he will recommend. Beaseley apparently hangs his hope upon Secretary Daniels, who, it is said, would like very much to see Beaseley appointed.

It is believed some of the "Fiery" attacks upon Senator Simmons in the Carolina Democrat which appeared during the Senatorial fight will have to be explained before Beaseley will have much chance for winning.

Senator Simmons said tonight that he would wait until Senator Overman was ready before making his appointments for the East. Senator Overman will probably make his announcement within a day or so. There is no apparent change in the slate. Winston and Hammer will be district attorneys and Webb and Dortch marshals.

MELANCHOLY WOMEN

Should Profit by Mrs. Hurley's Experience—Her Own Story Here Told.

Eldon, Mo.—"I was troubled with displacement, organic inflammation and female weakness. For two years I could not stand on my feet long at a time and I could not walk two blocks without enduring cutting and drawing pains down my right side which increased once a month. I have been at that time purple in the face and would walk the floor. I could not lie down or sit still sometimes for a day and a night at a time. I was nervous, had very little appetite, no ambition, melancholy, and often felt as though I had not a friend in the world.

"After I had tried most every female remedy first, without success, my mother-in-law advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did so and gained in strength every day. I have now no trouble in any way and highly praise your medicine. It advertises itself."—Mrs. S. T. HURLEY, Eldon, Missouri.

Remember, the remedy which did this was Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. For sale everywhere.

It has helped thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing down feeling, indigestion, and nervous prostration, after all other means have failed. Why don't you try it?

FULL ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT

PUBLISHERS' ANNOUNCEMENT.

THE MORNING STAR, the oldest daily newspaper in North Carolina, is published daily except Monday, at $6 per year, $3 for six months; $1.50 for three months; 50 cents for one month, served by carriers in the city, or by mail.

THE SUNDAY STAR, by mail, one year, $1; six months, 50 cents; three months, 25 cents.

ADVERTISING RATES may be had on application, and advertisers may feel assured that through the columns of this paper they may reach all Wilmington, Eastern Carolina and contiguous territory in South Carolina.

Obituary sketches, cards of thanks, communications espousing the cause of a private enterprise or a political candidate and like matter will be charged at the rate of 10 cents per line, to persons carrying a regular account, or, if paid cash in advance, a half rate will be allowed. Announcements of fairs, festivals, balls, hops, picnics, excursions, society meetings, political meetings, etc., will be charged under the same conditions, except so much thereof as may be of news value to readers of the paper, in the discretion of the editors.

TELEPHONES: Business Office, No. 51; Editorial and Local rooms, No. 61. Call either, if the other doesn't answer.

COMMUNICATIONS, unless they contain important news, or discuss briefly and properly subjects of real interest, are not wanted; and, if acceptable in every other way, they will invariably be rejected unless the real name of the author accompanies the same, not necessarily for publication, but as a guarantee of good faith.

ALL DRAFTS, checks, express money orders, and postal money orders, for the paper should be made payable, and all communications should be addressed to THE WILMINGTON STAR CO.

GOVERNMENT DRAINAGE.

The drainage bill introduced in the House of Representatives by Speaker Champ Clark seems to differ from the bill under which the irrigation projects in the West are carried out. The Clark bill authorizes the government, through the War and Interior Departments, to make surveys for drainage projects and to carry them out under government contracts or to advance money on drainage district bonds. We have seen no general outline of the bill, but Mr. Edmund T. Perkins, president of the National Drainage Congress, and Mr. Isham Randolph, both drainage experts, say there is no more important measure before Congress.

We don't know that the government can drain lands any cheaper than can be done under the North Carolina drainage law, which authorizes bond issues by corporations known as drainage districts, but the South is more interested in the subject than any oher portion of the country, since the swamp and wet land area in the Southern States covers 75,000,000 acres. North Carolina has several million acres of swamp lands. Florida heads the list with 20,000,000 acres. Included in the Florida area are the Everglades, which it is proposed to drain with a view to reclaiming millions of acres of exceedingly rich lands and providing many miles of navigable canals. Engineers Isham Randolph and M. O. Leighton have just completed a survey of the Everglades and have prepared their report as to its feasibility. Owing to the extreme fertility of that vast swamp and lagoon region, they report that the lands to be drained will soon pay all he cost and constitute the most valuable agricultural area in America.

The experts say that the South's reclaimed swamp lands are much richer than the reclaimed lands in the arid West upon which the government has spent about $84,000,000.

There is no better land in the world than the reclaimed swamp lands of North Carolina, and next to the Everglades the biggest drainage project in the United States is that which is now in progress at Lake Mattamuskeet, in eastern North Carolina.

OUR SOUTHERN PORTS AND THE CANAL.

The countries which will specially profit from the Panama canal are the United States, Japan and South America, the probability being that the Latin countries will benefit mare largely than even the United States, Japan has made exhaustive study of her opportunity by reason of the opening of the canal and her energetic preparations to make use of them, as noted in the Star a few days ago, causes the Charleston News and Courier to remark: "By comparison with these preparations of the far Eastern empire, our own inactivity becomes the more noticeable and seems the more to be regretted."

We presume The News and Courier refers particularly to our South Atlantic ports, as considerable preparations are being made in the great ports of the North. With the possible exception of New Orleans there is not a steamship company at a Southern port. Not a steamship belongs to any of our South Atlantic ports, a circumstance which emphasizes the fact that we are not a maritime people.

However, the Panama canal has in it the possibility of arousing our maritime spirit. In the meantime, Southern ports will have to depend upon the ships of other American ports or upon the ships of other nations. The best we can do at present, therefore, is to equip our ports with terminals so we can accommodate the ships that are likely to seek trade at our Southern ports. That is a small thing for us to do, and if we neglect that it is useless for us to bank on any great commercial development on account of the canal. The Isthmian waterway is only a small addition to the asset which we already have in the Atlantic ocean.

NEW YORK'S RATE FIGHT.

Some months ago little old New York won its freight fight against the railroads for rate discrimination against that port in favor of Boston. The Inter-State Commerce Commission heard the case and ordered the railroads to place New York on a rate parity with Bo[illegible]n as to import rates. That order was issued as long ago as June, 1912, but so far the railroads have not complied with the order. Not only Boston but Philadelphia and Baltimore have both export and import rates that are lower than those granted to New York.

It is understood that the railroads agreed on lower rates to Boston, Philadelphia and Baltimore so as to prevent ruinous competition among the railroads and to prevent the business from concentrating in New York. Even at higher rates commerce naturally tends to go to the big port of New York and as that city also has the advantage of being the center of greatest distribution.

After all, port facilities will outweigh the advantage in rates. A port with no facilities for economical handling of commerce could not stand any showing even were the rates in favor of the port that is not prepared to do business.

BISHOP STRANGE TO TAKE A REST.

Bishop Strange of the Diocese of East North Carolina, has been compelled to cease his episcopal labors on account of the state of his health, but we hope after a period of rest that greatly beloved Wilmingtonian will be able to resume his work with renewed vigor. We have been greatly pained over the reports concerning his health and had hoped that the illness he experienced while attending the New York convention was merely temporary. We hope his enforced rest is so timely that he will be all the better physically prepared to perform the arduous duties of the bishopric among his devoted people. However, Bishop Strange belongs to the Episcopalians only in his episcopal capacity, for among all denominations he is as greatly beloved as if he were theirs as well. Besides his eminent ministerial ability he is a noble type of gentle Christian and a potential force in the greatest work that can be done for mankind.

A BIGGER, BUSIER CITY.

If there should be any great industrial expansion in Wilmington it would be a bigger, busier Wilmington. Necessarily it would mean a city of greater area, for factories will spread the city beyond its incorporated limits. Indeed, most of the city's large manufacturing plants are now outside the city where they get the benefit of the lower rural taxing rates.

Factory sites of the future are going to be in the suburbs and when we start on an industrial career we are going to be astonished at the way it will make Wilmington spread out. Fortunately we have a belt line entirely encircling the city and railroads running along both sides of the harbor, so that there is no lack of eligible sites for the biggest industries that may spring up here. Meantime there is ample room in the city for a thousand small industries, which are said to be the life of an industrial center.

Tappahannock was founded contemporaneously with Philadelphia, but as Tappahannock hasn't done anything but be Tappahannock the mapmakers don't have to bother about marking it so it can be found. Philadelphia became a manufacturing city and is one of America's largest industrial centres because it has the advantage of distribution by water and rail. If that demonstrates anything it shows what can be done by those localities which have both water and rail facilities for getting raw materials and distributing finished products. Nuff ced.

Men generally regard women as frivolous. Now comes a writer who says the only reason that women are frivolous is that men keep them from taking themselves seriously. It is urged that women would not be frivolous if they were taught self-reliance and premitted to share more of the responsibilities of life. So far as responsibility is concerned, however, many of them have to share all of it in many families.

The late Adolphus Busch, the brewer who manufactured Budweiser beer, left an estate of $75,000,000. This will interest but not benefit thousands of men who contributed their share to that immense fortune. The bud wiser is the bud who never contributed a cent.

Governor McCreary, of Kentucky, 77 years old, donned overalls and wield a pick and shovel on good roads day. This shows that a man does not have to be young to line up in the progressive movements of the day.

CURRENT COMMENT.

Remembering the time it took the Democrats to pass a tariff bill when they knew what they wanted, we should not expect them to be in such a hurry in the matter of enacting a currency reform measure.—Durham Herald.

More than two-thirds of the women who submitted essays on "old fashioned versus the new" contest voted in favor of the former, and two-thirds of the men voted for the new-fashioned girl. Which may have more or less interest as statistical data.—Greensboro News.

The Wilmington Star says: "The same old Bill' seems to be different in his new party alignment. Gov. Sulzer's having become a Bull Mooser may bring Col. Roosevelt to his defense." And then again it may have the opposite effect. The Colonel may see in Bill a rival for the leadership of the Bull-Moose party, and its presidential nomination. — Jacksonville Times-Union.

Things appear to be coming Wilmington's way. The Baltimore & Carolina Steamship Company is now making a bid for a share of the business of that port. The water lines seem to be waking to the opportunities they have so long neglected. The indications are that Wilmington will soon experience the greatest demand for wharf facilities it has known since the war.—Charlotte Observer.

How Birmingnam stands in the Hobson-Underwood fight was indicated on the majority leader's arrival in his home city Friday to begin his campaign for United States Senator. A parade more than a mile long, every man on foot, escorted the Democratic House leader to his home. That Mr. Underwood deeply appreciated his rousing reception is shown by his remark that he considered it more of an honor than to have been elected President of the United States. Mr. Underwood will plunge at once into his campaign and expects to be absent from Washington at least a month.—Savannah News.

We often hear of the success of different parties who have gone from home, but for each man who succeeds, there are a hundred who fail. We seldom hear of the failures, nor do the people stop to think about that point. The West is full of North Carolina people who have failed so badly that they cannot raise the means to get "back home." The Observer has a letter from one who has enough of it away from home and is willing to admit it. He writes for some information that will aid him to an early location in Charlotte. He is one of the fortunate few who seems to have some way of raising money to get back on.—Charlotte Observer.

The Norfolk Southern Railroad is now open between Mount Gilead and Charlotte. Work trains have been running over the line and the road bed is in condition for the inauguration of passenger and freight service. The company, however, is not ready for the immediate opening of traffic, as there are a number of details to be worked out preliminary to the regular operation of trains. The fact that the track is completed and the line open is a token that the Norfolk Southern will be as good as its word and that some time during the month of November Charlotte people can take the street cars for North Charlotte and there take passage for the Capital City of the State, or any point along the line of the new railroad.—Charlotte Observer.

NEGRO SENTENCED TO DIE.

Attacked Jailer's Wife—Cullen Powell Case—Prisoners Released.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Clinton, N. C., Oct. 27.—In the Superior Court here today Tobe Devane, a negro, was convicted of the murder of Lavinia West, a negro woman, and sentenced to be electrocuted at Raleigh on December 1st. His crime was a brutal one. He waylaid his victim, cut her throat, and buried her in the woods near where she was murdered. Tonight as Jailer Gore's wife was serving supper to the prisoners in jail, Devane attacked her and would have escaped but for the assistance rendered her by some white prisoners, chief among whom was William McCullen, who is serving a jail sentence for complicity in a murder case.

Leon Pigford and John Staub, two young white men of Clinton, who have been in jail at Goldsboro for some two weeks on a charge of murdering a farmer named Cullen Powell from Warsaw in the tenderloin district of Goldsboro some time ago, were today brought here on habeas corpus proceedings before Judge Oliver H. Allen. They were ordered released on bond of $2,000 each for their appearance at trial. Staub was unable to make bond and was remanded to jail. Pigford, who is well connected, easily gave bond. There is very little evidence against Staub and none at all against Pigford, whose friends feel sure that he is merely the unfortunate victim of having been seen in company with some of the parties suspected on the night of the murder, while in an intoxicated and incapable condition.

Rheumatic Blood is Whole Story

Sciatica, Lumbago, and Dreaded Articular Rheumatism Cured.

You Will Feel Like an Acrobat After Using S. S. S.

Rheumatism is simply a name given to designate a variety of pains, and can only be reached by irrigating the entire blood supply with a naturally assimilative antidote. There is but one standard rheumatism remedy, and is sold in all drug stores under the name of S. S. S. Attempts are often made to sell something claimed to be "just as good." Insist positively you will have nothing but S. S. S.

It contains only pure vegetable elements and is absolutely free of mercury, iodide of potash or arsenic.

The recoveries of all types of rheumatism by the use of S. S. S. is a fine tribute to the natural efficacy of this remarkable medicine, for it is assimilated just as naturally, just as specifically, and just as well ordained as the most acceptable, most palatable, and most readily digested food. Do not fail to get a bottle of S. S. S. to-day. You will be astonished at the results. If your rheumatism is of such a nature that you would like to consult a specialist, write to the medical department, The Swift Specific Co., 220 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

SOUTHERN TRAIN WRECKED.

Number 11 Takes Ditch, Killing Engineer, Injuring Others.

Greenville, S. C., Oct. 27.—In a wreck of Southern Railway No. 11, one mile west of Easley, this afternoon, Engineer Ben Boile, of Atlanta, was killed and several other train men slightly hurt. No passengers were injured. The engine and baggage car turned over and the track was torn up for 100 yards or more.

How to Make the Best Cough Remedy at Home

A Family Supply at Small Cost, and Fully Guaranteed.

Make a plain syrup by mixing one pint of granulated sugar and ½ pint of warm water and stir for 2 minutes. Put 2½ ounces of pure Pinex (fifty cents' worth) in a pint bottle, and fill it up with the Sugar Syrup. This gives you a family supply of the best cough syrup at a saving of $2. It never spoils. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours.

The effectiveness of this simple remedy is surprising. It seems to take hold almost instantly, and will usually conquer an ordinary cough in 24 hours. It tones up the jaded appetite and is just laxative enough to be helpful in a cough, and has a pleasing taste. Also excellent for bronchial trouble, bronchial asthma, whooping cough and spasmodic croup.

This method of making cough remedy with Pinex and Sugar Syrup (or strained honey) is now used in more homes than any other cough syrup. This explains why it is often imitated, though never successfully. If you try it, use only genuine Pinex, which is a most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, and is rich in guaiacol and other natural healing pine elements. Other preparations will not work in this combination.

A guaranty of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this preparation. Your druggist has Pinex, or will get it for you. If not, send to The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind

HOUSEWIVES ENTER PROTEST

Will Not Patronize Merchants Who Display Foodstuffs on Sidewalks. Commend Position of Mayor Moore.

Condemning in the strongest terms the action of the City Council in amending a city ordinance so as to permit the use of two feet of sidewalk for display of foodstuffs and other goods and merchandise, commending the Mayor for his firm stand in opposition to the measure and pledging themselves not to patronize any merchants who display articles of food on the sidewalks, the Housewives League, in process of formation for the past two months, came into active being at a largely attended meeting of the housewives of Wilmington in the assembly room of the Y. M. C. A. building yesterday afternoon.

The resolution adopted by the housewives follows:

"Whereas, by recent action of the City Council, the merchants are permitted to occupy two feet of the sidewalk for the display of goods; and

"Whereas, Such display of food stuffs is unsanitary and dangerous to the public health, be it

"Resolved, That the Housewives' League of Wilmington unqualifiedly condemns this action of the City Council and hereby pledge ourselves to patronize no merchants who so displays articles of any kind intended for food, and furthermore

"Resolved, That we commend the Mayor for his firm stand in opposition to this measure.

Signed, Mesdames Chas. Worth, George Huggins, W. R. Appleberry, J. M. Solky, Jos. King, H. L. Fentress, Fred Hull, John Thames, Bright, M. H. Shepherd, D. W. Bulluck, George French, J. Solomon, Allen Huggins, Henry MacMillan, W. H. Moore, Robt. Scott, W. I. Herring, Z. W. Whitehead, C. G. Carter, R. W. Gibson, M. Hussey, E. Green, Isadore Bear, Julius Sternberger, J. C. Kelloway, C. E. Greenamyer, B. L. Mills, E. W. Haselden, M. F. H. Gouverneur, Eliza French, W. H. Sellers, Louis Williams, W. W. Koch, C. E. Weathers, F. B. Clausen, Joseph W. Yates, Conrad Meister, Prince, E. Piner, C. E. Johnson, Willard Kells, Gleason, C. Dannebaum, Hugh MacRae, W. C. Munds, Fletcher, J. J. Kelly, Sol Sternberger, Osborne, A. O. Schuster, M. L. Stover, H. O. Craig, Herbert McClammy, Donald MacRae, J. S. Sellers, Chas. Nesbitt, J. E. Sharp, Eugene Philyaw, George Peschau, W. N. Cronly, Gabe H. Croom, George Catlett, A. N. DuBois, W. N. Harriss, R. E. Williams, S. E. Koonce, W. T. Smith, Josephson, Robt. Ruard, Thos. Hill, W. J. Whitehead, Mead, B. T. Hopkins, J. J. Loughlin, Mitt Moore, Walter Sprunt, Miss Vann.

The 40 or 50 other housewives who attended the meeting would have signed the resolutions, it is stated, but for the fact that time was limited and, too, the room was so crowded that slow progress was made in the circulation of the document. There were about 150 women in attendance. There were many who could not even gain admittance to the room, because of its crowded condition. The meeting was marked by intense interest and enthusiasm. Practically every one present signified their intention of becoming an active member of the new organization and if the sentiment expressed at the meeting can be taken as an earnest of the interest this organization will be the most powerful factor in domestic economics in the State.

The movement grew out of a series of small meetings that have been held during the past two months in which plans were perfected for a large permanent organization to be affiliated with the National Housewives League which has grown in two years to three-quarters of a million members. Wherever the organization has been established and its objects actively pursued there has been a marked change for the better in local market conditions from a sanitary standpoint as well as in the economic features. Better prices have been obtained on all food stuffs, better service has been secured, better quality of food has become a necessary consideration among the merchants. Each link has formed a center of influence for civic betterment in all lines and Wilmington is to be congratulated upon the evidence furnished by the meeting yesterday that public spirit so often lacking among the men is not wanting among the women.

The meeting was called to order at 4 o'clock by the temporary chairman and after the object was stated several ladies made short addresses, presenting subjects for future consideration in line of local needs. The sidewalk question was discussed, as stated, as well as the unsanitary conditions of some of the local markets. Also the method of handling food by various dealers, some of whom were mentioned by name, and heartily condemned.

At a previous meeting by-laws had been prepared. These were read and it was announced that the nominating committee which had been appointed at the last meeting would not report until next meeting owing to the large atendance and large number of new members, it being desired that as many ladies as possible have a part in the selection and election of the officers of the league.

The next meeting will be held in the auditorium of the Y. M. C. A. building on Wednesday afternoon, November 5th, at 4 o'clock. All ladies who desire to join this organization are urged to communicate with Mrs. C. L. Meister, the temporary secretary, and secure membership before the next meeting in order to become charter members.

BOND FOR STEAMSHIP LINE.

Subscriptions to Stock Will be Resumed Upon Its Arrival.

The work of securing subscriptions to the bonds for the steamboat line from Wilmington to Baltimore and New York which the Morse Securities Company propose to put on is not being pushed for the present. The Morse interests have expressed a willingness to give a bond for $25,000 guaranteeing that two freight steamers will be put on between Wilmington and Baltimore and one between Wilmington and New York, and that this service will be maintained for a period of at least five years, provided local shippers take at least $25,000 of the bonds of the corporation.

Capt. M. L. Gilbert, who was here last week for the purpose of selling $25,000 in bonds for the Morse corporation, is now in New York, and has written to local parties that the proper steps have been taken for securing the bond, and that he expects to have it ready within the next day or so.

As soon as the bond is received here local business men will take up the matter, and expects to secure the remainder of the subscriptions to the bonds within a short time. Over $10,000 of the bonds have already been sold, it is said.

OPEN TEMPORARY OFFICE

Commercial Club Secures Quarters in Masonic Temple—Will Employ Assistant Secretary—Trade at Home.

The executive committee of the Wilmington Commercial Club, which was one week old last night, held an important meeting in the Trust Building at 6 o'clock last evening. It was a most enthusiastic meeting and several matters pertaining to the future of the organization were discussed. It was stated at the meeting that new members of the club are being received at the average rate of five or six a day, the membership now being about 175. The minimum number it is planned to have by Christmas is 500.

Present at the meeting yesterday were the following members of the executive committee: President C. N. Evans; Secretary Meares Harriss, Messrs. C. E. Greenamyer, L. W. Moore, W. A. McGirt, Thos. H. Wright, A. O. Schuster. The following are the other members of the committee: Thos. E. Cooper, treasurer; Chas. C. Loughlin and D. N. Chadwick, Jr.

It was decided to secure temporary quarters in the Masonic Temple, a suite of rooms on the east side of the building, fronting on Front street, being engaged. The name of the club will be prominent in the windows of the suite of rooms.

An assistant secretary to assist the secretary and the executive committee will be employed. The assistant secretary will devote a large portion of his time to canvassing for new members of the club and collection of membership dues. He will have his headquarters in the temporary offices, where he will be found when not engaged outside.

The committee decided that the Commercial Club will pay one-fourth of the expenses of the committee that will be sent to Philadelphia to appear before the meeting of the directors of the Philadelphia Nationals and invite, or rather urge, the selection of Wilmington as the training ground of the team next Spring. The committee will be composed of several baseball fans and business men. The remaining three-fourths of the expenses of the trip has been arranged.

The entire executive committee will compose the publicity committee and it will get busy right away on several advertising and publicity schemes which have been suggested. One of the features will be the issuance of a daily bulletin to the real estate agents posting them as to inquiries made by both residents and non-residents as to the renting and purchasing of houses, factory sites, etc. A similar service is given by the Asheville Board of Trade and has been very successful.

Realizing that much money goes out of Wilmington annually for goods that should be spent with local merchants, the Commercial Club will start an educational campaign having the twofold purpose of inducing the merchants to carry at all times just exactly the goods sought by the people and to bring the people to see that they should do their trading at home for in so doing they will aid in building up an enriching the entire community, which will benefit all. Co-operation between the buyer and the merchant is to be the keynote of the campaign. As in every community in the South, large sums of money are sent from Wilmington every year to Northern houses that could more advantageously be spent with home merchants.

The executive committee is casting about for a suitable man for the position of city builder. They are naturally taking a great deal of time in the selection of the man for this important position as they want to be certain to have just the right man.

The next regular meeting of the club is on the night of November 7th, when a number of important matters are to be considered.

DEATH WAS ACCIDENTAL.

Coroner's Jury Finds Young Coleman Died from Gun Shot Wound.

The jury impannelled Saturday by Coroner John J. Fowler to inquire into the circumstances surrounding the death of young David Coleman, who was killed near Macomber's Station, Saturday morning after examining several witnesses yesterday returned a verdict to the effect that his death was due to a gun shot wound in his left side caused by the accidental discharge of a gun while he was hunting in the vicinity of Macomber's Station.

The two young men, Richard Brown and John D. James, Jr., who were with him, were examined. Both told substantially the same story. The three young men were hunting. They went down in a surry, and while two were scouting around the other would stay near the horse. Richard and John were some distance away when the shooting occurred, and young Coleman was looking after the horse and buggy.

They heard the shot but did not pay any attention to it, thinking that David had shot at some game. When finally they came up they found him lying under the buggy, apparently dead with the gun lying about 15 feet away. Ed Foy, a colored man, was at the buggy, and he would not let them examine the body, they stated, saying that it would be better to wait until the coroner could make an investigation. They immediately telephoned to the police department.

Foy testified that he lives about 100 yards from where the shooting occurred, and that he was getting ready to go to Scott's Hill. He heard the gun shot, but did not attach any special attention to it as he said there is much shooting around his premises by hunters. When he came out he saw the buggy and the boy lying under it. Sallie Moore, colored, corroborated Foy's story as to finding the body.

Coroner Fowler testified that when he went down he found the boy lying under the buggy and the gun lying some distance away. No other witnesses were examined.

The only explanation that seems possible to make of an accidental shot would be that young Coleman was in the buggy, and started to get out when the trigger was caught in some way causing the gun to be discharged. This probably frightened the horse and it moved off some distance. Later the boy probably fell from the buggy.

Dr. Stiles Called to Little Rock.

Dr. C. W. Stiles, medical officer in charge of the Marine Hospital, left Sunday afternoon on a hurried trip to Little Rock, Ark., under orders from Washington to represent the United States Public Health Service at the first annual conference of State, county and municipal health officers which will be in session in that city tomorrow and Thursday. He will also make an address before the conference. During his absence Dr. Wheeler will have charge of the government work here.

REPORTS OF RIVER WORK

Good Progress Being Made on Various Government Projects—Work on the Locks and Dams Up the River.

For the ten days ending October 20th, 76,760 cubic yards of material were removed from the ocean bar and the river channel below Wilmington by the four dredges now at work according to the report of Assistant Engineer R. C. Merritt, which he has made to Major H. W. Stickle, United States district engineer.

This was above the average for the amount of work done in ten days, and shows that good progress is being made on the present project for widening the channel of the Cape Fear below the city.

The dredge Cape Fear, working on the ocean bar and Snow's Marsh removed 22,539 cubic yards; the dredge Hercules working on Big Island Shoal removed 7,917 cubic yards; the dredge Potomac, working on Lilliput Shoal, removed 16,679 yards, and the dredge No. 9, working on Midnight Shoal, removed 29,625 yards of material.

The report for the same period of Capt. W. S. Ridley, in charge of the construction of locks and dam on the upper Cape Fear, to Major Stickle shows that there were 190 piles driven at King's Bluff by the two pile drivers now at work there. The only other work done was the preparation of the concrete yard, construction of a concrete mixing plant and the installation of an electric light plant.

The second set of locks and dam will be constructed at Brown's landing, 72 miles above Wilmington, and borings for the preliminary work were finished on the 13th. A test caisson has been placed in the river at that point to make further investigations. The present plans are to have a large scale survey map made of the lock and abutment site. While the tests are being made all the brush, briers and weeds will be removed from the government reservation.

The report of Assistant Engineer Harry T. Patterson, of Newbern, states that the dredges Norfolk and Reliance are now removing stumps from the Pamlico river. The dredge Trent, also at work on the Pamlico, has been laid up for repairs. The dredge Gray Eagle is dredging in the Tar river. The Hoister Contentnia is removing logs, snags and stumps from Fishing Creek. The dredge Scuppernong is in South river dredging stumps and snags. It has also removed an old wreck from the river channel which was towed to shore and sunk.

COMMITTEE TO CHARLOTTE

Wilmington Will be Represented at Just Freight Rate Meeting in Queen City Tonight—Report Tomorrow.

At a largely attended meeting yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock of the New Hanover Branch of the Just Freight Rate Association it was unanimously decided to accept the invitation of the Charlotte branch of the association to send a committee to Charlotte to attend the meeting there tonight.

The following were named as the committee from the local association and they will attend: Messrs. J. G. McCormick, W. E. Perdew, J. B. Rice, J. S. Brown and A. B. McNair. The committee will express to the Charlotte association assurances of the hearty support of Wilmington in the undertaking for better and more equitable freight rates in the State.

The New Hanover Association will hold another meeting tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock to hear the report of the committee attending the Charlotte meeting and also to name delegates to go to Raleigh Thursday to attend the State mass meeting. A large number of those present yesterday afternoon signified their intention of attending the meeting in Raleigh. Arrangements are being made for a special Pullman car to be attached to the train leaving at 3:40 Thursday morning. The sleeper would be open for occupancy Wednesday night. Those who desire reservations on the Pullman should communicate at once with Secretary Isadore Bear, of the local association.

The committee going to Charlotte will leave on the 5 o'clock train this morning and will return tomorrow at noon. The purpose of the meeting is to consider the permanency of the association and the different lines of activity to pursue from now on. Charlotte has taken a broad view of the entire situation from the incipiency of the fight and has stood for a settlement of the rate question that would include the entire State rather than certain sections. Members of the local association are glad of the opportunity to attend the Charlotte meeting tonight.

CAROLINA BEACH.

Transportation Line a Certainty—Expert Salesmen Here.

The owners of beautiful Carolina Beach resort are now in a position to announce a transportation line from Wilmington. Wilmington with an automobile road and car line to Carolina Beach should become the greatest resort town in the United States especially on the South Atlantic coast.

The activity of the owners and developers of Carolina Beach may be readily seen by visiting this resort. Old buildings are now being dismantled and board walks, rustic houses are being built, and water and sewerage systems undergoing repairs and enlargement. Improved streets and boulevards put in shape preparatory to the erection of quite a number of cottages.

It is doubted if some of the citizens will recognize Carolina Beach next season. The New Hanover Transit Company has recently enlarged its sales staff, having secured the services of five experienced realty salesmen from New York and Long Island. Four of them are married men and will shortly have their families in Wilmington to enlarge Wilmington's rapidly-increasing population. Mr. Byron B. Stowe and Mr. H. S. Chaplain have already arrived and say lots of good things about Wilmington and Carolina Beach. The other three gentlemen will take active duties during this week. Mr. Frank M. Abeel, known to a number of citizens here, has also joined hands with the selling force of this company.

IMPRESSIVE SERVICE SUNDAY

Rev. Geo. W. McClanahan Formally Installed as Pastor of St. Matthew's Lutheran Church. Reception.

With interesting and impressive services Sunday morning at 11 o'clock and in the presence of a large congregation, Rev. George Walker McClanahan was installed as pastor of St. Matthew's Lutheran church, to which he was called some months ago. The church was very prettily decorated with palms, ferns and flowers. A feature of the services was the singing by the augmented choir.

The charge to the pastor was delivered by Rev. Dr. R. C. Holland, of Columbia, S. C., president of the Board of Foreign Missions of the United Synod, South. Basing his remarks on the charge of Christ to Peter, "Feed My Sheep, Feed My Lambs", he made a most earnest and eloquent address. He said that as the minister is an under-shepherd of the Great Shepherd and Bishop of Souls he must have a clear vision of the Great Shepherd to fulfill the duties of his arduous and responsible office.

"A great passion for souls and love for souls will make the ministry light to the pastor and rich in fruitage. He must also engage in his work with the love of Christ as the great motive power. This will make him patient to ensure the trials and tribulations incident to the pastorate," he said in conclusion.

Rev. F. B. Clausen, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church, of this city, delivered the charge to the congregation. He took as his text, "Let him that is taught in the word communicate unto him that teacheth in all good things. Be not deceived; God is not mocked; for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap." Gal. 6:6. He spoke of the obligations a congregation owes its minister and the results that the recognition of this obligation produced. After speaking of the obligation to provide for the pastor's temporal wants the speaker made an earnest plea for the congregation to share their love and friendship with their minister.

Mr. Clausen said that the minister stands more or less isolated in the community, because for the sake of his people he must sanctify himself.

Continuing, he said: "Obedient to their call he leaves home and circle of friends where his heart has been rooted. The church must replace these heart attachments for him. He is looked to for sympathy and succor. Unless his heart be replenished by the love of his people it must finally be exhausted. As a congregation sows in support and love unto its minister it will reap."

Reception Last Night.

In the Sunday School parlors of the church last night a most enjoyable reception was given in honor of the new pastor. An attractive programme consisting of vocal and instrumental solos, was rendered by members of the church choir. Pleasing short addresses were made by Dr. Holland and Rev. F. B. Clausen, and these were responded to by Mr. McClanahan. Mrs. Lena Avant was chairman of the general committee on arrangements, and she was assisted by the following ladies, who had charge of the different features as named: Mrs. E. A. Shands, music; Mrs. W. H. Diehm, reception; Mrs. Avant and Mrs. Hans A. Kure, refreshments. Following the musical programme and addresses refreshments were served. The evening was an altogether enjoyable one for all.

TRANSFERRED TO NORFOLK

Mr. Theodore B. Kingsbury Becomes Acting Manager of Important Western Union Office There —His Successor.

An announcement of interest to many warm personal friends in this city and of importance in the business life of the town is that Mr. Theodore B. Kingsbury, for nearly a year manager of the Western Union Telegraph Company here, has been transferred to Norfolk, Va., and given the important post of acting manager of the company's extensive business in that city, one of the largest offices in the Southern division of the company.

The appointment comes to Mr. Kingsbury entirely unsolicited and solely as a reward of merit, having handled the Wilmington office with that degree of ability and satisfaction as to warrant this call to him to a larger sphere of usefulness. He leaves the last of the week for his new post of duty, taking entire charge of the company's main and four or five branch offices there during the sickness of the manager, Mr. L. C. Hall, who has been ill some weeks and who, upon his convalescence, may be assigned to other and more important duties as it is known that he stands very high with the company and that he was in line for substantial promotion when he was forced to temporarily abandon his duties on account of his health.

The promotion for Mr. Kingsbury is a high testimonial to his worth and ability, having left the service of the Associated Press only a little more than a year ago to go with the Western Union, first in the Richmond office and then to Wilmington where he was manager of the office here. He is a native Wilmingtonian, a young man whose rise in his chosen profession has been meteoric and who has deserved all the success that has come to him. While regretting his departure from Wilmington, friends here will be delighted to know of his promotion and will wish him all success in his adopted city.

Mr. Kingsbury will be succeeded here by Mr. J. Shinberger, who comes as acting manager, from Greensboro, N. C., a gentleman of experience and capacity. He was formerly in charge of the office at Roanoke, Va., and will be welcomed to Wilmington. He is expected to arrive Thursday or Friday.

Special evangelistic services will be conducted this week at the Chadbourn Memorial church, at Winter Park Gardens, beginning tonight at 7:30 o'clock. The preaching will be by Rev. A. J. Howell, the pastor of the church. All residents of that neighborhood are cordially invited to attend.

Crownless hats are fashion's latest offering. A single thickness of black tulle fitted closely over the head is the only suggestion of a crown used on a brim or block straw.

The children entering the buttonhole and darning contest for the Sorosis fair may do the work at home, and send it in November 10th for exhibition at the building where the fair will be held. Those competing for the prizes will be asked to state that it is entirely their own handiwork. It was at first thought that the children could be assembled and each given the same time in which to do the work, but this was found to be impracticable.

Mr. C. N. Evans has very generously offered to the committee of the North Carolina Sorosis two well lighted rooms on the fourth floor of the Atlantic Trust & Banking Company building to be used as reception and examination room for the Better Babies Contest. No more beautiful apartments could be found. The rooms face the front, and have several large windows which will make them ideal for the purpose. One room contains a lavatory which will be of great help to the committee. The mothers while waiting for their babies to be examined can seize this opportunity for taking in the beautiful vew of Wilmington and the river which this floor affords and it is well worth a trip were there no contest. Examinations will begin Wednesday by appointment and each mother will be notified when to come.

RECEPTION AT WARSAW HONOR BRIDAL COUPLE.

Warsaw, N. C., Oct. 25.—The social event of the season was the reception given by the Baptist ladies of Warsaw, at the elegant home of O. P. Middleton, on Wednesday night last, in honor of Rev. A. O. Moore and his bride, who was Miss Katherine Futrell, of Scotland Neck.

The guests were met at the door by Mrs. Ralph Honeycutt and Mayor J. E. Williams, and ushered to the receiving line by Mrs. Faison Peirce, which was composed of Rev. A. O. Moore and Mrs. Moore, Rev. and Mrs. J. L. Showell, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Anderson, Mr. Ernest Middleton and Miss Bettie Cox, Mr. R. D. Johnson and Miss Mattie Hines; Mr. B. C. Sheffield and Miss Fannie Wilson, Mr. H. H. Hines and Miss Sallie Hussey.

The dining room was indeed a thing of beauty in its yellow, white and green decorations, shaded by soft lights from candelabra, the color scheme being carried out in the refreshments. Here Mesdames W. L. Hill and O. P. Middleton welcomed the guests, while Misses Sallie Hill and Mary Wilson, and Mesdames J. T. Gresham and S. R. Flowers feasted each one with a three course supper. From the dining room to the punch room the guests were escorted by Miss Fannie Best and Mr. Claud Best.

The punch room was beautifully decorated with pink roses and asparagus ferns, while the walls were festooned with Southern smilax and the soft light from the incandescent bulbs added lustre to the scene. Here Misses Mankie Noble and Eula Powell received, and led the guests to the punch bowl, where Misses Annie Kate Powell and Olivia Best dispensed refreshing fruit punch.

During the evening the guests visited the gift room, where they were received by Misses Mattie Owen and Margaret Kennedy. The presents were many and beautiful, being among the handsomest ever seen in Warsaw. The whole house was tastefully decorated for the occasion, the decorations in the spacious reception hall, being red and green with American Beauty roses and potted plants in profusion; the front parlor was a veritable flower garden with the many roses, potted plants and ivy, and the gift room was beautiful with bride's roses, ferns and wedding bells.

Misses Louise Anderson, Winnie Bell Jordan, Bettie Hunter, Helen Fonvelle, respectively attired in pink red and yellow and white crepe de chine, acted as cloak girls and gave charm to the occasion.

Dark messaline petticoats are trimmed with bands of Bulgarian embroidery six inches deep.

J. H. W. BONITZ, SR., PASSES

Widely Known and Highly Esteemed Citizen Died Last Evening After Illness of Year—Funeral Will be Held Tomorrow.

Hundreds of friends in Wilmington and elsewhere throughout the State will be shocked and saddened this morning to learn of the death of Mr. John Henry William Bonitz, Sr., which occurred at his home, No. 322 North Fifth street, at 5:45 o'clock last evening, following a period of ill health extending about 12 months. His immediate illness was of about two weeks' duration and for several days past close friends and loved ones have known that the end was drawing near, though the realization of his passing was nevertheless a great blow to them.

Mr. Bontiz was one of Wilmington's oldest and most beloved citizens. He was born in Zellerfeldt, Hanover Province, Germany, on November 3rd, 1839, and had he have lived until November 9rd, of this year, he would have been 74 years old. He came to America in 1854, accompanied by his two brothers, Mr. Julius A. Bonitz, who was the founder and editor of the Goldsboro Messenger, which was afterwards removed to Wilmington and known as the Wilmington Messenger, and Mr. Henry Bonitz, who was a merchant in Washington, D. C. Both of the brothers preceded him to the grave several years ago. Mr. Bonitz was one of a large family of children, all of whom eventually came to America prior to the Civil War. The only surviving member of the family that left Germany is a sister, Mrs. Emelia Helbig, of Lynchburg, Va.

On June 10th, 1862, Mr. Bonitz was united in marriage with Miss Mary E. Stegner, of Goldsboro. Their married life was singularly beautiful and in June of last year they celebrated their golden or 50th wedding anniversary, celebrating the 51st anniversary in June of this year.

When Mr. Bonitz came to America he landed at Baltimore, where he conducted business until 1856, when he moved to Washington, D. C. In 1859 he left Washington and came to Goldsboro, where he engaged in merchandising and later built one of the large hotels at Goldsboro, now known as the Arlington.

In 1889 he moved to Wilmington and bought the old Commercial Hotel and ran the same as the Bonitz Hotel until the beginning of the present year, when, on account of failing health, he sold the property, and removed to No. 322 South Fifth street, where he has since resided.

Doubtless Mr. Bonitz was the last living witness of the fatal difficulty in which General Daniel H. Sickles shot and killed Stephen Barton Key, a short while before the Civil War. That celebrated homicide occurred in Washington and it was an event which attracted attention all over the country owing to the circumstances and the prominence of the parties. Mr. Bonitz witness the attack of General Sickles and saw the unfortunate Key fall after the fatal shot. He was one of the first to reach the fallen man, and that notable circumstance at the National capital when the bitterness between the sections presaged civil strife was the impelling cause of Mr. Bonitz's removal to North Carolina. He wanted to come South and fearing arrest and long detention as a witness, he left Washington and came to North Carolina.

Surviving Mr. Bonitz are his aged wife; two sons and four daughters, these being Mrs. W. D. Blalock, of Wilmington; Mrs. I. B. Andrews, of Pensacola, Fla.; Miss Florence Bonitz, of Wilmington; Mrs. Bertram Quelch, Messrs. Henry E. Bonitz and Mr. Fred W. Bonitz, of this city, all of whom were at his bedside when the end came except Mrs. Andrews, who is expected to arrive this afternoon. Mr. Bonitz also leaves nine grandchildren.

Mr. Bonitz was a member of St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran church. He was a charter member of Ruffin Lodge, Knights of Pythias, Goldsboro, and later removed his membership to Germania Lodge, this city. He was also a charter member of Hanover Lodge, I. O. O. F.

Mr. Bonitz was a man of sturdy individuality and there was about him an unaffected personality that made everybody his friend. He had a wonderful faculty of remembering occurrences, dates and names, and possessed a vast fund of information upon which those who knew him could draw. He was full of reminiscences and very few men could so interest and entertain listeners when he related incidents in his experiences ante-dating the Civil War and during that conflict. Doubtless his chief characteristic was his devotion to his family and friends, and nothing so delighted him as to be at home with those he loved and who were naturally devoted to him. His home life was beautiful and he rejoiced in the home circle where tender affection and family loyalty surrounded him. Quiet in demeanor, but not reserved in disposition, Mr. Bonitz was closely attentive to all duties imposed upon him and in every respect he was known to his friends as a good man and citizen.

Mr. Bonitz's period of failing health dated from the day before the last general election and one of the greatest regrets of his life was his inability to go to the polls and cast a vote for a Wilson elector. He had always been a staunch Democrat and it did him good to think that there were prospects of a Democratic President being elected and was deeply grieved that he could not have a part in that election.

The funeral will be held from St. Paul's Lutheran church tomorrow, the hour to be announced later.

Girlish Complexion Now Easily Acquired

"A skin of blended snow, cream and rose," is the way an Ohio correspondent describes her newly acquired complexion. She is one who has adopted mercolized wax in place of cosmetics, massage, steaming and other methods. Many who have tried this marvelous wax report that its effects are quite different from those of any other treatment. It produces a complexion of exquisite girlish naturalness, rather than one bearing evidence of having been artificially "made over." One that is indeed "Nature's own," the result of gradually absorbing dead particles of surface skin, permitting the younger, healthier skin beneath to show itself and giving its pores a chance to breathe. Mercolized wax, procurable at any drug store in original one ounce package, is put on at night like cream and washed off in the morning.

I have also had many favorable letters from those who have tried the wrinkle-removing face bath which I recommended recently. If any have mislaid the formula, here it is: 1 oz. powdered saxolite, dissolved in ½ pint witch hazel.—"Natalie," in the Woman Militant.

SEN. LAFOLLETTE LECTURES

Speaks on Representative Government at Boys' Brigade Armory Last Night—Heard by Only Small Audience.

Hon. Robert M. LaFollette, the distinguished United States Senator from Wisconsin, lectured last night on "Representative Government," at the Boy's Brigade Armory. This was his first visit to Wilmington, and unfortunately he had a small audience to hear him speak on a theme which has been his chief study for the last 20 years. As a man and as an orator, he appears to be tremendously in earnest, and although he was not well last night, his dramatic recital of the fight he has made for representative government in his native State and at Washington received the close attention of those present.

Col Walker Taylor presented in a few happy words C. C. Loughlin, Esq., who introduced the speaker of the evening. He gave a short outline of the fight that has been going on for the last few years for progressive government principles, in which, he said, Senator LaFollette had taken a leading part. The history of his life, he declared, is a fight against the bosses and for purity of politics and uprightness of living. He was a Progressive, he said, when it was a rarity to find a progressive, and has now come into his own.

When Senator LaFollette arose to begin his speech, he received an ovation from the audience. He is a small, stocky man with a bristling pompadour which indicates the fighting qualities that have made him famous. He speaks with a directness and a terseness that drives his thoughts home so that even the most simple can clearly understand his meaning. He is dramatic in his utterances, and every phrase is fully weighed. He knows which way he is headed, and is not afraid to say so.

He reviewed briefly the history of the founding of the government, how that the writers of the Constitution found that they could not give all the people the privilege of participating in the making of laws, and hit upon the happy solution of having representatives in Congress to make the laws for them. It was a splendid plan, he declared, when properly carried out, and no special interest came in between the people and their representatives. He paid a beautiful tribute to those who fought to establish the government. They started out without money and with scarcely any means at their command, showing a rare quality of bravery and courage, the like of which the world had never witnessed before.

He told the history of how the other republics established prior to this had gone down not from without but from within. The struggle has ever been, he said, between the masses and wealth. Those who had watched the formation of this government predicted that it would fail.

But it was established, and upon so firm a basis that when de Tocqueville came over from Paris, he declared that he had never found a man who spent his money to corrupt the government. But times quickly changed, and when James Brice, the great English statesman, came over to study the government 50 years later, he found that the doors of the American Congress were besieged with the agents of the special interests, and that in many instances the representatives of the people were themselves lobbying for these interests.

At this juncture, he paid a tribute to President Wilson, saying that he thought he is doing mighty well. However, he declared, he hasn't begun to be tested, and the hardest fight is before him, and this is to control the moneyed interests. This fight cannot be won in three or four years, he declared, but is one that will take decades.

In this fight the Senator said he had been enlisted for 20 years, and was still in it. He confessed that he was ambitious and that he would like to be President, but he would never surrender a single principle, even to get this high office.

He then took up the history of business, showing how for the first 90 years of our government business was based on individuals and partnerships. But God, in His good providence, seemed to have chosen the richest spot of the earth to work out this great experiment. The soil was virgin, there were no ruined empires, and the growth of wealth was so rapid that corporations became absolutely necessary.

"We were up against a new economic era, and the American business man hit upon the greatest business invention of history—the corporation. He took the principle of representative government and applied it to commercial affairs, with the result that 90 per cent. of our business is today controlled by corporations. Through this means railroads have been built, mountains have been tunneled and huge manufacturing enterprises established," he said.

The great trouble today is that the corporations want to control the government. The grip of the financial interests is seen everywhere. In Wisconsin, however, he said, all public utility corporations are controlled by the government.

He reviewed in detail the history of his fight, how he ran for Governor in 1896, and was defeated. He ran again in 1898, and the bosses bought his delegates. In 1900 he was nominated and elected Governor, but the bosses controlled the Legislature, authough the members had been elected on the platform which he had written. In 1902, he was again elected, and they again trolled the Legislature, although the he succeeded in getting a legislature which enacted laws for which he had been fighting, and which are now on the statute books of that State.

He gave the history of their rate fight in which they finally succeeded in getting regulation of rates by which the people are saved annually two million dollars in freight tolls. He said that the three things that must be taken into consideration in making freight rates are cost of construction, cost of maintenance and the cost of operation. In Wisconsin, before enacting rate legislation, these were carefully worked out, he said.

But the greatest question before the country, today, he declared, is the control of money and credits. Five years ago he said he made a statement in the United States Senate that less than 100 men controlled all the big business in the United States. When his statement was challenged, he made a careful investigation, and found that there were just 96 men serving on the various boards of directors of the various corporations who absolutely control them, and that all but 14 of these were dummy directors. Only these 14 represent capital on their own account.

"You can do nothing that requires capital of importance without going to New York. Practically all the banks there are dominated either by the Morgan interests or the Standard Oil interests, and even these two which were formerly apart, have now consolidated so far as it concerns their mutual interests to do so. It is the greatest power that ever threatened any democracy in the history of the world, and will never be overturned until the people get together and demand their emancipation from this great financial monster," he said in conclusion.

Senator LaFollette was to have arrived here yesterday morning, but a message was received Sunday stating that he would not get here until last night. He leaves this morning for Raleigh, where he speaks tonight.

SINGING CLASS TONIGHT.

Oxford Orphans Will Give Concert in Masonic Tempie.

The singing class from the Oxford Orphanage which is now making a tour of the Eastern part of the State will give a concert in the chapter room of the Masonic Temple tonight at 8:30 o'clock instead of the Academy of Music as at first planned. The children gave a concert at Southport last night, and will arrive in the city this morning. While here they will be the guests of the local Masonic bodies.

The concerts by the children are bright, attractive and of unusual excellence. They give pleasure to the people who attend, are in the interest of a worthy cause and are worth far more than the admission price, which is 25 cents. Those who attend will be glad that hey did so. It will warm the heart, broaden the sympathies and enlarge the life to see, hear and help the little ones.

The Orphanage which is supported by the Masons of the State provides the necessities of life for 325 children, offers to them the opportunity to secure an English education, gives them valuable industrial training and also religious training and instruction. Since it was founded in 1872 this institution has given a home to 2,900 children.

While supported by the Masons, no discrimination is made in favor of children of Masons—the need of children is the primary consideration. Its desire is to be instrumental in saving life and in the salvation of souls. The children that sing here tonight illustrate the work the Orphanage is doing, and to hear them is the next best thing to a visit to the institution. The admission is only 25 cents.

LOCAL DOTS.

—Mrs. A. W. Watson has made report that a very handsome fern and vase have been stolen from her lot in Oakdale cemetery.

—At Trinity Methodist church Sunday night at 7:30 o'clock, Rev. C. T. Rogers, the pastor, preached the annual sermon to Cape Fear Tent, Knights of the Maccabees of the World. There were a large number of Maccabees present as well as members of the church.

—Dr. J. Y. Joyner, State superintendent of public instruction, will attend and take part in the exercises on November 12th, incident to the Corn Show in connection with the Fine Arts and Industrial Exhibit. A letter accepting an invitation to be present was received by Prof. Washington Catlett, county superintendent, last night.

—Secretary Howard B. Branch, of the Chamber of Commerce has received an attractive booklet from the Chamber of Commerce of Washington, D. C., which furnishes a complete guide to the Capital City for the tourist or visitor. Anyone desiring a copy can obtain one by addressing a post card to Thos. Grant, secretary of Chamber of Commerce, Washington, D. C.

—Deeds were filed for record yesterday as follows: H. W. Konig and wife to Dr. Ernest S. —Mr. Stephen D. Lucas, the local manager, yesterday stated that ordinarily a new telephone directory is issued on October 1st, but that as this is the moving period in Wilmington and desiring to have the Fall directory as complete and accurate as possible, he hit upon the plan of delaying the publication of the directory for 15 days. This will give time to include all changes necessary on account of removals, he said. The copy for the new directory was sent to the printer on October 15th and the directories should be ready for distribution between the 5th and 10th of November.

Valuable Property for Sale.

In order to consolidate his investments, Mr. A. J. Hanby has opened an office at 121 Princess street, and will dispose of much valuable city and suburban property that may be found listed in the special column of today's paper. He will be glad to talk over any or all of the lots or tracts described with anyone interested.

CARD OF HANKS.

I take this method of expressing to the hundreds of friends who were so kind, both by tender words and golden deeds, in the time of my great bereavement—the passing from life unto death of my husband, Mr. W. Harvey Cox—my warmest thanks and deepest appreciation. I shall ever cherish their sweet memory.

MRS. LIDA WALKER COX.

MR. WILLIAM EUGENE MAYO.

Well Known and Highly Respected Citizen Passed Away—Funeral.

Many friends in Wilmington, especially among the older residents of the city by whom he was best known, will hear with sorrow of the death of Mr. William Eugene Mayo, which occurred last night at 8:30 o'clock at his home, No. 2 Postoffice avenue. The death was not unexpected as Mr. Mayo had been failing in health for some time, but its announcement came as a sad realization to the family and friends.

Mr. Mayo was born in Powhatan county, Virginia, October 15th, 1832, and had, therefore, just passed the 81st mile stone of his life. He was a son of William Henry Mayo, of Virginia, but came to Wilmington years ago and was associated for years in the lumber business at the port when that industry was at its height. In later years, on account of his health, he had not been actively engaged. He was a man of many noble traits of character and was well liked by all in the circle of his acquaintance.

He is survived by his wife and three children, Mrs. W. A. Furlong and Mrs. James H. Cowan, of this city, and Mrs. Harry T. Johnston, of Philadelphia, Pa.; also by one holuf brother, Mr. John M. Edwards, of Farm School, Buncombe county, this State. The bereaved ones have the sympathy of many friends in their bereavement.

Mr. Mayo about two years ago connected himself with the Presbyterian church and the funeral will be conducted Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock from the residence by Rev. A. D. McClure, D. D., pastor of Saint Anderw's Presbyterian church.

YOUNG COLEMAN'S FUNERAL.

Services From Home of Parents Sunday Afternoon Largely Attended.

The funeral of young David Coleman, who was accidentally killed Saturday morning, was held Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock from the residence of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Coleman, No. 615 Castle street, conducted by Rev. W. G. Hall, pastor of Southside Baptist church. The services were attended by a large concourse of friends of the bereaved family. David was a member of the seventh grade at the Union school, and several hundred of his former classmates together with their teachers were present at the funeral. He was a bright, manly young man and was greatly liked by his teachers and fellow students. Following the services at the home the remains were borne tenderly to Bellevue cemetery where the interment took place. The pall-bearers were six of his former classmates and were as follows: Richard Brown, Isaac Greenwald, Robert Biddle, John D. James, Jr., and Chas. Deal.

Didn't Violate Prohibition Law.

It was inadvertently stated in The Star Sunday that Mr. J. D. Sidberry was indicted several months ago by Plainclothesman Leon George for violating the prohibition law. It should have been stated that it was for an alleged violation of the city ordinance requiring the display of license tags on all public drays. The police made the error in giving the information. The two cases now against Mr. Sidberry in which Officer George charges him with disorderly conduct and also with assault with a deadly weapon were continued in the Recorder's court yesterday until Wednesday at the request of the defendant.

THE EFFICIENCY OF PLASTERGON

is best indicated by its sales last year, having been over eight million square feet—71 per cent. being repeat orders.

Plastergon is moisture-proof; it never cracks or breaks; it lasts practically a lifetime with no cost for up-keep.

It is germ and vermin proof, and can be decorated cheaply or expensively according to the tastes or pocket-book of the owner.

COTTON MARKET NERVOUS

Was Less Active and Unsettled Yesterday as a Result of Realizing or Selling for Reaction After Exciting Advance.

New York, Oct. 27.—The cotton market was less active today and seemed to be rather nervous and unsettled as a result of realizing or selling for a reaction after the excited advance of last week.

Weather and European reports were generally considered of a bullish average, but did not seem to inspire much fresh or aggressive buying for long account, and the talk around the ring reflected a more reactionary sentiment. Closing prices, however, were very steady and while prices were 11 to 14 points net lower on October and November, later deliveries showed losses of only 1 to 3 points for the day. December contracts made new high records for the season at the opening, selling at 1.418, or $6.20 per bale above the low level of October 15.

Steady cables and reports of very cold weather in the Western belt were considered for the initial advance of from 1 to 7 points, but while indications pointed to another freeze east of the river also, the market soon turned easier.

Houses with Liverpool connections were again sellers here, presumably on straddle account, while there was heavy scattering liquidation from both local and Southern sources. The appearance of so much long cotton coming on the market, and the absence of aggressive support, encouraged local selling for a reaction in spite of the bullish private crop and weather news, and the market gradually eased off to a net loss of from 7 to 13 points. Reports that a prominent statistical bureau had made a preliminary crop estimate of approximately 13,350,000 bales, excluding linters, steadied the market up during the afternoon, when there was considerable covering by early sellers and active months showed rallies of some five to six points at the close.

Spot, quiet. Middling uplands, 14.50; do. gulf, 14.75; sales, 1,300 bales.

Cotton futures closed very steady.

OLYMPIAN GAMES FOR 1916.

America Will Ask That Opening be Postponed for Several Weeks.

Berlin, Oct. 27.—The principal track and field events of the Olympic games to be held here in 1916 are to be decided between July 1st and July 10th, according to an announcement made today by the German Olympic committee. The June dates contemplated earlier were abandoned by the committee at the instance of the United States, which objected because college athletes from that country would be unable to attend at that time of the year.

Football and hockey championships are to be contested on May 29th and June 5th, respectively and the rowing on August 12th.

New York, Oct. 27.—James E. Sullivan, American Olympic commissioner announced today that he would request the German Olympic committee on behalf of the United States team to postpone he opening of he Olympic games at Berlin in 1916 at least one week. Mr. Sullivan said:

"The German committee evidently made a concession to us, but even to open the games on July 1st will work a hardship on our team in 1916. Close to 50 per cent of the team will be college students. In many cases it would be impossible for them to leave college before June 15th or later.

"From present indications the United States team will consist of about 150 athletes."

THE SAUNDERS TRIAL.

Elizabeth City Editor to Appear in Court at Newbern, N. C.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Newbern, N. C., Oct. 27.—Federal Court convenes in this city tomorrow morning and the noted Saunders case, in which W. O. Saunders, editor of the Down Homer, published at Elizabeth City, will be placed on trial for the alleged sending of obscene matter through the mails. Saunders will make the fight of his life for acquittal. He has engaged the services of A. D. Ward, a partner of Senator F. M. Simmons, and who is one of the ablest lawyers in the State. Much interest centers around this case and it is one of the chief topics of conversation in this city and surrounding section and the outcome is awaited with great interest.

BIG FAMILY MIX-UP.

Two Brothers Dead While Brother-in-Law Seriously Hurt.

Barksdale, S. C., Oct. 27.—Ernest and Hunt Sharp, brothers, were killed, and the former's brother-in-law, Cornelius Edwards, seriously wounded in a pistol battle near this place today. Edwards is under arrest.

Disagreement over family matters is said to have been the cause of the clash, which occurred when the three men met in a country road this afternoon. After several shots had been exchanged, Ernest Sharp received a pistol bullet in his heart. His brother was wounded a few minutes afterward and died an hour later. Edwards' wounds are not believed to be fatal.

Edwards is 21 years old and Ernest and Hunt Sharp were aged 21 and 18 years, respectively.

GENERAL RISE IN STOCKS

No Large Volume of Business but the Significant Feature of the Rise Was the Steady Strength Without Driving Power.

New York, Oct. 27.—In a quiet, even way stocks rose generally today.

There was at no time a large volume of business and the significant feature of the market was its steady strength, without driving power of an insistent demand to sustain prices on the upturn. Many of the trading stocks gained a point or more.

Reduction in the German Bank rate from 6 to 5½ per cent. contributed to the strength of the market. There was no material change in rates for time money here but call funds were held more firmly, a late flurry sending up the quotation to four per cent.

The news from Mexico tended to restrict the volume of speculative trading. Rock Island issues wer strong and rather active, both the preferred stocks and the 4s making good gains. New Haven securities were heavy at first, but later rallied strongly.

Bonds were firm. Total sales, par value $2,830,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call. Total stocks sales, 221,800 shares, including American Tobacco, 100; C. and O., 200; Lehigh Valley, 1,100; Reading, 33,700; do., pfd., 100; Southern Railway, 500; Tennessee Copper, 1,900; U. S. E. C. T. T. SCHOOL.

President Wright at Commercial Congress—Other Campus Notes.

Greenville, N. C., Oct. 25.—President Robert H. Wright, of East Carolina Teachers' Training School, is now attending the Southern Commercial Congress at Mobile, Ala. Before returning he will attend the Southern Educational Association in Nashville, Tenn.

A system of banking has been established in the bursar's office of the school. This system is operated on the same principles of a regular bank, by which the students of the school may deposit and withdraw their money at will. Such a system is invaluable, as it furnishes to the girls practical training for the business side of their later lives.

In the mathematics department of the school, the topic, banking, is being taken up and explained in such a manner as to clarify its principles in the minds of the students.

TENNESSEE DEFEATS DAVIDSON

Score Nine to Nothing on Muddy Field During Rains.

Knoxville, Tenn., Oct. 27.—University of Tennessee's football eleven defeated Davidson College 9 to 0 here today, in a game played in a sea of mud and with rain falling almost constantly, at times in torrents. There were many fumbles. In the second quarter Carroll, left end, ran 15 yards for a touchdown, and in the third he added three more points by a field goal. The game closed with the ball on Davidson's one-yard line in Tennessee's possession. Thompson and Carroll starred for Tennessee; Walker and Creighton for Davidson.

GIANTS WIN ONE.

Loosely Played Game—Six Hits Off of Johnson.

Joplin, Mo., Oct. 27.—The New York Nationals defeated the Chicago Americans here today in a loosely played game. The score was 13 to 12. Walter Johnson pitched the first three innings for Chicago, New York getting six hits while he was on the mound.

KNOW IT WELL

Familiar Features Well Known to Hundreds of Wilmington Citizens.

A familiar burden in many homes.
The burden of a "bad back".
A lame, a weak or an aching back
Often tells you of kidney ills.
Doan's Kidney Pills are for weak kidneys.

Here is Wilmington testimony.

Miss M. Rivenbark, 105 Dock St., Wilmington, N. C., says: "There was a constant, dull pain in the small of my back and some days I could hardly get about the house. The kidney secretions bothered me and I had but little strength or energy. I used several tonics and remedies, but nothing gave me relief until I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills, which were procured at Bellamy's Drug Store. It did not take them long to give me lasting benefit. You are welcome to continue using my former public endorsement of Doan's Kidney Pills."

JOSEPHUS DANIELS SPEAKS

cisco to the Caribbean in about 240 hours, as against 1,824 hours it took the Oregon to sail around Cape Horn, we are told that the building of the canal demands twice as large a navy as formerly and that control of the canal demands a large standing army on the Isthmus."

Secretary Daniels referred to the declaration of Count Maurice de Perigny, a celebrated French explorer, that "this gigantic and remarkable work of the United States is insufficiently protected in a miliary sense." The Frenchman calculated that 25,000 men would be barely sufficient to guard the waterway.

"But in these statements," Secretary Daniels continued, "as in almost all other things, the truth lies between two extravagant assertions. The canal will not double the effectiveness of our navy, but it will greatly increase its ability to defend every part of the coast on the Pacific as well as on the Atlantic. It will not virtually multiply the numbers of the army. It will make necessary fortifications and troops, but it need not be nearly so expensive or require one-half so many troops as our distinguished Frenchman predicts.

"No great achievement comes without sacrifice and cost, but the benefits to be derived will be worth the moderate cost its protection and operation will require in all the years to come, and with the expansion of trade the benefits will increase an hundred-fold whereas the expense will remain practically stationary.

"The Panama canal is a mammoth carving knife that cuts and slashes distances in a record-breaking way. And cutting and slashing the distances between New York and San Francisco means to revolutionize naval, as well as commercial, conditions. The military significance of the canal, of course, is that it enables the quick movement of the fleet in either ocean to the other in time of war.

"It will be the most vital chord in that system of transference by which the navy of the United States can come promptly to the support on either coast of the local defenses. With a competent navy, and with the canal secured, not merely as to tenure, but with guns of such range as to insure deployment in the open sea at either end is a necessary condition of all seacoast fortifications—invasion will not be attempted, for it can lead to no adequate results. Without the canal it would require four months for an Atlantic fleet to round Cape Horn into the upper Pacific; with the canal it will require less than four weeks."

Secretary Daniels, referring to the Spanish-American War days, lauded the battleship Oregon's hazardous trip of 13,400 miles in record breaking time, declaring the cruise helped powerfully to build the canal.

"A few months hence," he added, "the navy—the chief cause which led to the construction of the canal—will proudly sail through the majestic waterway from the Atlantic to the Pacific. Headed by the Oregon, the imposing fleet will teach to all the world the fact that the navy of the Republic, long anchored in one ocean, has hoisted anchor and is equally at home on the Atlantic and the Pacific, the protector and defender of American honor and American interests.

"If it be given to those who have gone before to look out of the windows of the skies and find happiness in the doings of this world, the heart of John T. Morgan will thrill as he sees the realization of a dream that took him out of the lowlands of thought and gave him the vision that comes only to those who live upon the mountain tops of public duty and of private thinking, where they are given the power to prophesy and dream dreams."

FARMING LEGISLATION.

Comes Next After Currency Is Finished, Says Senator Gore.

Tulsa, Okla., Oct. 27.—U. S. Senator Gore, of Oklahoma, in an address before the International Dry Farming Congress here today, gave assurance that legislation intending to better the condition of the American farmer would be considered by Congress immediately after the pending currency bill is disposed of.

Senator Gore declared that as a result of the recent investigation of rural credits in Europe a plan would be devised whereby money with which to raise the crops would be loaned to the farmer at 4 per cent. interest.

Soils, tillage, livestock and other subjects of importance to the planter, with especial reference to the conservation of water to provide moisture for the growing crops during dry periods were discussed by agricultural experts from a number of States and several foreign countries today.

The International Congress of Farm Women held its first session this afternoon. Mrs. Belle Von Dorn Harbert, of Manzanilla, Colo., president of the Congress, made a plea for better surroundings for the women and children on the farms and deplored the exodus from the country to the city.

CHANGE IN PERSONNEL.

Of Directors of Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific.

New York, Oct. 27. — Important changes in the personnel of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Railway Company are expected to following the meeting of the directors to be held in this city on Wednesday.

The recent weakness of Rock Island issues and Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Railway collateral trust bonds has given rise to much conjecture concerning the future of these properties.

At Wednesday's meeting of the railway directors, it is expected that William H. Moore will retire from the chairmanship of the executive committee and that his successor will be a member of the Phelps-Dodge interests, which already have very large holdings of Rock Island preferred.

The various Rock Island issues and the railway bonds were especially strong and active today as a result of these reported changes.

room cleared. Officers attempted to carry out the order, but made little headway and the spectators remained to the end.

Personalities were woven into the argument. Jerome declared that "Thaw's counsel wished to keep Thaw in New Hampshire as long as possible, as long even as the Thaw coal and coke mines hold out to burn."

Jerome described Thaw as a "degenerate, insane criminal," and said that Thaw money had attempted to bribe a grand juror and two jurymen during his first trial for the murder of Stanford White.

GOLD IN MONTGOMERY.

Rich Vein Found in Coggin Mine—Negro Shoplifters.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Greensboro, N. C., Oct. 27.—A strike of remarkably rich free gold ore, eight feet wide of silicified slate and quartz veins, is reported to have just been made at a depth of 250 feet in the Coggin gold mine, near Whitney, Montgomery county, by the North Carolina people who purchased this property last May. Since the purchase they have been developing below the 200 foot level, and installing a stamp mill and concentrating plant, which will be ready and in operation next month.

In driving a west cross-cut level at 250 feet depth, eight feet width of high grade ore was encountered. This gave a sample average assay gold value of $202.10 per ton, same being mostly free gold, showing both coarse and fine to the naked eye. This is mostly free milling, carrying only four to five per cent of gold bearing sulphide concentrates.

The main shaft of the mine, now 280 feet deep, is being sunk to a depth of 500 feet. This high grade ore strike at the present lowest level indicates persistence in depth, with increased values of ore deposits. It also indicates that development to a greater depth is waranted and would likely be profitable in other mining locations in the State. The average values of the Coggins ores at the 100 and 200-foot levels show approximately $7.50 a ton over an average width of 20 feet.

The United States Geological reports for 1912 show an increased gold production in the South of $142,760, about 75 per cent of which was produced in North Carolina, largely from the Iola mine, which is also in Montgomery county and has been operating for 18 months with a modern milling plant on ore from a depth of 500 to 700 feet. The fact that North Carolina men and money are operating both of these properties recalls that most of the $24,000,000 gold production credited by the State and Federal repors to North Carolina since the discovery of gold in the State early in the last century was produced by Southern operators, and much of it very profitably. The recent strike and the future successful operation of the Coggin property will no doubt lead to an extended renewed interest in North Carolina gold mining and other properties will be investigated, developed and operated productively.

The cases against Cornelia Milton, Mattie Coleman, Mary Watlington, Alex Milton and Babe Lovewell, negroes, who have been engaged in a wholesale shoplifting business, came up in municipal court this morning and were continued until Thursday. The evidence against the people is regarded as conclusive. At the time the three negro women were arrested some of the property stolen Friday was found concealed upon their persons. At their homes in the country enough was found to stock a good-sized store. A partial list of the things they have taken by stealth from Greensboro merchants includes the following: 29 silk petticoats, 21 kimonas, 22 pieces of underwear, nine children's dresses, three rain coats, three ladies' coat suits, 14 towels, three dozen napkins, 17 children's hats, 41 pairs of men's hose, 20 pillow cases, 107 handkerchiefs, one boy's suit, five corset covers, three gingham aprons, 100 yards of cloth linen, silk and satin, several hundred other articles from pins to handbags and articles of clothing. Nothing in the way of wearing apparel, accessories and toys escaped them. The Meyers Company was the largest loser, but many other merchants have been robbed. The stolen property is valued at from $500 to $800.

NEGRO KILLED BY TRAIN.

So Badly Mangled by Train May Never be Identified.

(Fayetteville Observer 27th.)

An unknown negro was killed in this city last night or very early this morning by an A. C. L. train. A portion of his body was found beside the track on Winslow street, between Mumford and Franklin; the main part, about in front of the passenger station on Hay street, and from there to a point beyond the intersection of the A. C. L. and A. & Y. tracks, near the Fayetteville ice factory, portions of the mangled remains were picked up by the men from J. M. Rogers' undertaking establishment. The poor fellow was so badly crushed that it would be impossible to recognize him.

The body was clothed in a suit of overalls, and in one pocket was a pocketbook containing $1.40 in cash and some trading checks from the store of B. Pate & Co., who, it is thought, do business at Pate's in Robeson county.

It supposed that the negro was taken up by the cow-catcher, and ground to pieces as the train rushed along, the pieces being dropped as they were found by the side of the track.

It is likely that train No. 86 from Tampa to New York, which passes through here at 4:10 A. M., is the one which struck him.

So completely was the body mangled and so utterly beyond indentification, that Coroner Dr. J. V. McGougan decided there was not any necessity of holding an inquest, as no good end would be served. He, therefore, instructed Capt. W. H. Tomlinson, A. C. L. detective, to turn the remains over to J. M. Rogers, undertaker, for burial, which Captain Tomlinson did.

The head of the victim struck the rails somewhere between Mumford and Franklin streets, severing it completely from the body, and crushing it, and when the main part of the body was found near the station, only a bit of the skin of the scalp, with a tuft of hair on it, was clinging to it.

In addition to the $1.40 and the two trading checks mentioned above, there was found on the body a medal of the Jamestown Exposition, bearing the date of the founding of the city of Jamestown and the date of the exposition.

Although circumstantial evidence may turn up which points to some certain negro as the victim, it can never be definitely established who he was, and his friends, if he had any, will never know what became of him.

In France boards of education are sent to teachers who wan o bear children.

TARBORO'S FEDERAL BUILDING.

Dismantling Large Warehouse—Fair is Getting Under Preparation.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Tarboro, N. C., Oct. 26.—Work was started today on the dismantling of the large brick house located on the site to be used by the government in the erection of the new Federal building for Tarboro. As required by the recent notice from the Postoffice Department, all buildings must be removed by the first day of January, at which time the preliminary work on the new postoffice will begin. The new building will be modern in all its departments and will be erected at an outlay of $75,000. With the completion of this building sometime next year, Tarboro will have city carrier delivery.

The large brick house being razed was built by the late William H. Johnson and was one of the first brick residences to be built here. It has been used as a residence for the past 30 years, and was occupied until today by Captain R. H. Gatlin, one of the heroes of the War Between the States. The site cost the government $12,000.

The Howard Memorial Presbyterian church is installing one of the finest pipe organs in Eastern Carolina, the organ being constructed by the Austin Organ Company, of Hartford, Conn. The organ will be erected by November 10th.

Dr. L. L. Staton, of Tarboro; Dr. H. B. Herriott, of Battleboro, and Mr. W. E. Fenner, of Rocky Mount, have been selected as judges for the races at the Edgecombe Fair, which opens next Wednesday and continues for three days, November 5th-7th. With the fair only one week away, every building is practically completed and from the many entries received the management is assured of a big success. Mr. W. C. Chatman, of Whitakers, has offered two individual prizes of $5 each for colts under one year, and colts over one and under two years sired by Colonel Patrick.

Everywhere throughout this section there is much interest in these departments to make it interesting for the farmers of this and adjoining counties. The State Agricultural Department will have representatives here to judge exhibits in these departmnts.

Both railroads entering Tarboro have offered reduced rates to the fair and on Thursday, November 6th, there will be special trains. The race track is in excellent shape and with clear weather there will undoubtedly be some records made for this part of the State.

The October term of civil court convened here this morning with Judge G. W. Connor presiding. The first case called this morning was that of Sue W. Alexander vs. R. W. Alexander, for divorce, and created much interest. Rev. Alexander was for years pastor of the First Presbyterian church of this place and later was pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Dublin, Ga. He afterwards accepted the Baptist faith, and was in charge of the First Baptist church of Durham during the intervening time between the resignation of Dr. Lynch and the selection of Rev. Hurt, as pastor of that church. Rev. Alexander is well known throughout the State and there is much interest in the final outcome of the present proceedings.

The other two cases of most importance at this term of court are the suit of Miss Olivia DeBerry vs. the Atlantic Coast Line for personal injuries in the amount of $2,500 and that of young Norman Forbes against the city of Rocky Mount for $5,000 for personal injuries.

GLASS-OWEN BILL.

A. W. McLean Thinks Well of Currency Measure and President.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Washington, Oct. 27.—Ninety per cent. of the bankers of North Carolina favor the Glass-Owen currency bill, accerding to A. W. McLean, of Lumberton, one of the State's leading bankers, who was here today in conference with Assistant Chairman Thomas J. Pense, of the Democratic National Committee.

"I think I am conservative when I say that 90 per cent. of the bankers in North Carolina favor the administration currency bill," said Mr. McLean.

"There are some, however, who believe that a few slight changes might be better for the country. But they believe in President Wilson and realize that a currency bill should be passed, and also that it is not possible to get a measure that will suit all the people at one jump. The central bank plan is an impossibility.

"I think, perhaps, if the Glass bill were changed so that the regional banks would be established gradually instead of twelve at one time, it might be better for the entire country. I would suggest, and did suggest, to Mr. Pence, that six regional banks be provided for immediately after the bill goes into effect; three the second year and three the third. This would avoid a too radical change in the banking system, and would allow the bankers time to adjust themselves to conditions. It would avoid the withdrawing from New York and other banking centers of such large amounts of money as would have a tendency to cause a hard money market."

Mr. McLean declared that Wilson today is stronger than ever before and that the people, regardless of politics are beginning to see in him one of the Nation's greatest men.

TO THE PUBLIC—We, the undersigned dairymen of New Hanover county, desire to notify our customers and patrons, and the public generally, that on and after the 1st day of November, 1913, it will be impossible to furnish milk to our customers for less than 12 1-2 cents per quart for bottled milk at retail, and milk in cans at 40 cents per gallon. We deplore the issuance of this notice more than our customers do to receive it, but on account of the high cost of labor, and the enormous prices of hay and grain, make it impossible to sell milk at the present price. We deplore the fact that conditions impel us to pursue this course, but we are compelled to issue this notice or get out of business, as we are losing money each day we continue in the same. We desire, however, to state that as soon as labor becomes cheaper and the price of grain and hay is decreased, we will lower the price of milk in proportion. Thanking our customers for past favors, and assuring them of our high appreciation of the same, and wishing to serve them in the future, we beg to remain, respectfully, Edward C. Craft, O. Martindale, D. E. Pridgen, H. L. Kidd, D. F. Klein & Son, W. M. Collins, E. F. Barlow, Martin Schnibben, Geo. W. Branch. oc26,28,31-3t

SPREADING OUT—

Our business is spreading out. We are doing a much larger business than ever before. There must be some reason for this. Yes, it's the Flour that does it. Our BELLE OF WILMINGTON Flour sells on its merits. People who use it like it, because it does the best kind of baking. That's why they continue using it.

Bits of History.

JOHN ADAMS.

On October 30th, 1735, John Adams, second president of the United States, was born at Braintree, Massachusetts, which place is now called Quincy. He had been vice president for two terms under Washington. People then thought a vice president could not be elected president. But Adams broke away from this idea that was rapidly crystalizing into habit.

Our thoughts are largely influenced by habit. We have so long thought of something as hard to do that we deem it impossible. The things which are impossible to a resourceful man are very few.

Saving money is a habit, and to live well and happily on less than we earn is not impossible by any means.
